Snow Strands 500 in Other Parts of State

Dallas — (AP) — A surge of destructive weather sent up to 1,800 persons fleeing their flooded homes in south Texas and stranded as many as 500 motorists in snow in west and northwest Texas last night and today.

Worst hit from floods were the lower Rio Grande valley at the southern tip of Texas, and areas around Corpus Christi, about 130 miles up the Gulf of Mexico coast.

The snows which stranded motorists fell from the Marfa area in Texas' Big Bend north for 300 miles or so into the Plainview area in the south plains, and on into New Mexico. Lesser snows fell farther north and drifted as much as three feet in some areas.

Island Menaced
The turbulent weather sent waves crashing into Padre island, a long, low, sand-built island that runs for 120 miles along the Texas coast. Eight persons were stranded overnight on the island and the coast guard dropped food and water to them.

Two navy helicopters evacuated eight from Padre today. At midmorning, water was not perceptibly receding in the lower Rio Grande valley city of Edinburg, which was worst hit by the high water.

It was draining somewhat elsewhere. But the slow runoff in the flat country meant, officials said, that most of the 400 or so evacuated in Edinburg could not return to their homes until tomorrow.

Residential Areas Flooded
Five hundred persons were taken from their flooded homes at Bishop and 500 at Robstown, in the Corpus Christi area yesterday.

The water spread over 71 blocks in Edinburg, mostly in residential sections of small, wooden houses built close to the ground. Water there was more than knee deep.

The water covered the area as far as the eye could see and remained there, still and un-moving. There was no current.

The water from the Edinburg area was expected to move on to the Alamo area, where some flooding is expected.

Court Reverses Conviction in Deportation Case

Washington — (AP) — The supreme court today reversed the first conviction of an alien for failing to deport himself under a proviso of the 1950 internal security act.

Justice Whitaker, writing the court's unanimous opinion, said it was unnecessary to pass on validity of the proviso because the justices found there was lack of evidence to support the conviction of Knut Einar Heikkinen, a native of Finland.

Heikkinen was ordered deported in 1952 after immigration service hearings at Duluth, Minn. The board of immigration appeals said Heikkinen had been a Communist party member from about 1922 to 1930.

The 1950 act imposes criminal penalties on aliens ordered deported if they willfully fail to depart within six months. It also fixes criminal penalties for aliens who willfully fail to make timely applications for travel documents after being ordered deported.

Heikkinen was convicted by a jury in U.S. district court in Madison, Wis., on the counts: Willful failure to leave within six months after the deportation order and willful failure to apply for travel documents within that 6-month period.

Fond du Lac Child Strangles in High Chair

Fond du Lac — (AP) — An 8-month-old boy slipped down in his high chair and strangled against the tray today as an older brother, 3, tugged at his feet apparently trying to free him.

The dead baby was David Rosemeyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rosemeyer, who live in a trailer on Van Dyne road.

The mother, who was in another part of the trailer at the time, called an ambulance squad, but efforts to revive the boy were unsuccessful.

New Sense of Urgency Faced By Congress

Sputniks Arouse Great Concern Over National Security

Washington — (AP) — Congress gets back to work tomorrow in an atmosphere of urgency far different from the mood of last year's pre-sputnik session.

Things are a lot different than they were last Aug. 30 when senate and house adjourned after chopping $31 billion from defense and foreign aid appropriations and passing the first civil rights legislation in about 80 years.

In the interim, Russia launched two earth satellites and the United States failed in its first launching attempt.

Rep. Wright (D-Texas) summed up the new mood this way: "There is an uneasiness to get on with the job, a sense of urgency."

Influence of Sputniks
"The two sputniks have cast weird and grotesque shadows in a rear door on the northwest side of the building. The safe was rolled into the men's room, where the burglars saved off hinges and removed the safe door."

The burglars left between $200 and $300 in silver in the safe. The loot was cash, since the owners customarily took home with them checks which had been cashed. The cash register was not touched, although it contains some cash.

Chief of Police Herbert W. Kapp said work appeared to be that of professionals. One of the owners, Norbert Klein, estimated the loss and said the theft occurred between 2 o'clock and 6 o'clock this morning.

Entered Window
At the trucking company, burglars entered the warehouse by removing a cardboard from a window on the east side of the building. They forced a glass partition leading to the office and used a crowbar and hammer found on the premises in an attempt to open the safe.

Police said the safe handle was partly off. They theorized that the attempted safe-cracking took place between 3 and 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. It was discovered by C. M. Laurie, Olson's safety engineer, when he found the safe pulled away from the wall in the firm's office.

5 Israeli Parties to Help Form Cabinet
Jerusalem — (AP) — A government spokesman announced today that all five parties which resigned from a coalition last week have agreed to form a new cabinet under Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion.

The new government will be presented to parliament tomorrow. The spokesman said the parties were also understood to have agreed to keep the same cabinet posts they held in the last government.

Ben-Gurion's last government resigned last week when members of the leftist achduth avodah (labor unity) party leaked word of plans for a mission to go to West Germany.

Two boys, aged 13 and 14, were taken into custody shortly after the shooting. In a statewide broadcast police said two others were being sought.

Patrolman Slain Chasing Youths
Pawtucket, R.I. — (AP) — Patrolman James R. Caruso, 33, father of three, was shot to death early today by one of four youths he was chasing in an automobile.

A member of the police force of neighboring East Providence since 1955, Caruso had taken up the chase at the request of Pawtucket police after a break at the Stanley Enterprises store.

Police said the youths had stolen a 12 gauge shotgun and a rifle from the store and that the rifle was used to kill the policeman.

Two boys, aged 13 and 14, were taken into custody shortly after the shooting. In a statewide broadcast police said two others were being sought.

Study Group Urges Big Changes in Defenses

Asks Boost In Spending By Billions

Washington — (AP) — A civilian study group says the nation's strategy and military forces are out of step with the tempo of the missile age and need big changes and billions more in money.

Defense spending should be increased about $3 billion each year for the next several years, said a special 21-man panel of the Rockefeller Brothers fund.

"It appears that the United States is rapidly losing its lead over the U.S.S.R. in the military race," the panel said in a report.

"For perhaps the next two years, we still possess a superiority in strategic striking power and any Soviet attack on us would meet a crushing reply. But our position a year or two hence depends on decisions which must be taken immediately. Unless present trends are reversed, the world balance of power will shift in favor of the Soviet bloc."

Summarizes Findings
Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the state of the Union message President Eisenhower will submit to congress Thursday "will present the president's thinking on defense security."

In reply to questions, Hagerty said he assumed a copy of the group's recommendations had been sent to the White House, but he added he did not know whether Eisenhower had had a chance to study the recommendations.

Summing up findings in a study which began in 1956, the panel concluded among other things that:

Strategy "lags behind developments in technology" and "the United States is rapidly losing its lead in the race of military technology." The lag in missiles and space machines "reflects our national complacency."

"Patchwork" Strategy
Strategy, as evolved by the joint chiefs of staff, is "a patchwork of compromise" among the rival armed forces. The joint chiefs of staff "functions too often as a committee of partisan adversaries engaged in advancing service strategic plans and compromising service differences."

The panel said the JCS chairman "should be in a position to shape strategic planning" with the other members merely advising him. It added the secretariat of defense now is "a combined staff of nine months hard labor and peddled to devote much of its time to acting as a referee in service disputes."

Combined commands should be created, in which land, sea and air units would come under a single commander with the composition of the combined force patterned to the mission it would perform.

No longer would the chiefs of staff of the services direct military operations of their services. The departments of the army, navy and air force would become agencies for recruiting

Expert Calls Gein Insane

Hearing Held to Determine if Killer Can Stand Trial

Wisconsin Rapids — (AP) — The director of the Wisconsin State Hospital for the Criminal Insane today described admitted slayer-ghoul Edward Gein as legally insane—a schizophrenic living in a "rather expansive fantasy world."

Dr. Edward Schubert testified at a formal sanity hearing for the 31-year-old Plainfield bachelor who has admitted killing two women and robbing a dozen graves.

Gein, dressed in a white shirt and brown trousers, sat impassively chewing gum through most of the proceedings in the packed courtroom of Circuit Judge Herbert A. Bunde.

Termed Legally Insane
Dr. Schubert said Gein, who underwent intensive mental examination at the hospital, was withdrawn, had insufficient ego, was immature, lived a rather expansive fantasy life centered about himself and had little faith in people. Gein, he said, wanted to smash things at times.

The director said it was his opinion and that of the hospital staff that the little handyman is legally insane and incompetent to stand trial. He said Gein's condition has been chronic for at least 12 years.

Schubert, most of whose testimony was in answer to questions from Judge Bunde, said Gein felt that God ordained him to do things over which he had no control.

Gein, Schubert added, was unable to give a chronological account of his activities and therefore was unable to confer with attorneys.

He said Gein's chances of being cured was "minimal."

Pair Dies in Madison Blast; Damage Set at Half Million

Explosions and Fires Raze Most of Block Near Capitol

Madison — (AP) — Natural gas explosions and fires in two downtown areas yesterday resulted in the death of a middle-aged couple and caused property damage estimated at half a million dollars.

Three simultaneous explosions a few minutes after midnight Sunday morning and fires destroyed most of a city block a short distance from Capitol square; blew the front out of an auto body shop near by, and caused minor damage but no fire at Truax field, an air force base on the city's east side.

William McGrath, 63, a grocery employee, died in a hospital several hours after an explosion from seeping gas destroyed his home. His wife, 54, who was in a second floor bedroom was killed. Her body was recovered seven hours later.

Daughter Not Home
McGrath, who was found near the scene by police and rushed to the hospital, said his wife had asked him to investigate a smoky smell coming from the basement and he was part way down stairs when the blast occurred.

The couple's 13-year-old daughter, Marilyn, was visiting overnight at the home of a married sister.

Theron A. Brown, superintendent of the Madison Gas and Electric Co., said his crewmen late last night checked out the last report of a suspected gas leak. He assured residents they had no need to worry about further explosions.

More than 40 blocks were closed off yesterday as 60 gas company crewmen chopped up streets in search of possible leaks. Portions of Capitol

Thousands Saved By American Aid

Yokosuka, Japan — (AP) — The U. S. navy said today that its relief operation for flood-stricken Ceylon "undoubtedly saved many thousands of lives" and was a mission of which "all the people of the United States can be rightfully proud."

Navy vessels, including the aircraft carrier Princeton and the destroyers Henderson and Southerlin, took medical and food supplies to the island in the Indian ocean and navy and marine helicopters airlifted them to the interior.

General in One-Man Revolt

Washington — (AP) — A spectacular one-man revolt by Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, spurred demands today for a shakeup in the military high command.

Gavin, chief of the army's research and development program, told a reporter he is sticking by his announced intention to retire from the army March 31. By that time he will be 51 years old and will have completed 30 years of service.

"I won't compromise my principles and I won't go along with the Pentagon system," Gavin said.

Some members of congress expressed concern at Gavin's move, and a senate subcommittee planned to explore the matter promptly.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said, or present military or civilian

Korean Girl Testifies at Court-Martial

Kunsan Air Base, Korea — (AP) —

A 17-year-old Korean girl testified at a U. S. Air Force court-martial today that she and other Koreans were "invited" into an air base by the same guard who later shot at them.

The witness was Miss Yoon Kum Soon, a companion of Miss Kim Yong Yi, who died Nov. 13 from shots fired by U. S. forces. The joint chiefs of staff "functions too often as a committee of partisan adversaries engaged in advancing service strategic plans and compromising service differences."

2 Girls Killed When Dormitory Floor Falls

Lisbon — (AP) — A dormitory floor in an orphanage across the Tagus river from Lisbon collapsed last night, burying two girls.

Before firemen could dig through to the children, two more floors collapsed. The victims lay under 15 feet of iron, cement and stone.

Forty-eight other girls sleeping in the dormitory escaped. The Roman Catholic orphanage in the little fishing village of Porto Brandao housed 465 children.

Romanian President In Critical Condition

Vienna — (AP) — Bucharest radio reported today that the condition of Petru Groza, Romania's 72-year-old president, had turned "very serious."

The broadcast did not give a specific diagnosis but from the symptoms it cited, listeners in Vienna speculated Groza has cancer of the intestines.

Investigate Threat Of Red Submarines

Preparedness Subcommittee Looks Into U. S. Atomic Sub Program; Studies Progress Being Made

Washington — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said today the Senate preparedness subcommittee is exploring thoroughly the potential threat of missile-carrying nuclear submarines to the United States.

Johnson said the progress this country is making in nuclear submarine developments would be studied with Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, who developed the type the navy now has in operation.

Rickover was called for testimony at a closed session of the subcommittee as it resumed its inquiry into the missile and satellite programs.

Previously the group was reported to have been told behind closed doors by Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), that the Russians have submarines which could fire missiles on American coastal cities.

Navy Program

Meantime Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) called for a special navy program, headed by an official with power to act, to speed this country's missile submarine program. He renewed his call for at least 100 such submarines a year.

Jackson, a member of the parent armed services committee but not of the subcommittee, said in a statement that "sooner than most of us think," Russia will have "large numbers of nuclear submarines armed with 1,500-mile missiles."

By comparison, he said, "our present plans call for exactly one hunter-killer submarine to be operational in 1960."

Jackson said the navy's intermediate missile, Polaris, is near final testing stage but "will not be a real weapon until it is married to its launching platform — a nuclear submarine."

The debate over the nation's defenses echoed elsewhere among officials and among congress members returning for the start of a new session.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) conceded that Russia may have a slight lead now in missiles, but said this country still is "equal or ahead" in various types of atomic weapons.

Match Russians

Knowland predicted that this country will be able to match the Russians in missiles and that launching of American satellites this year will further offset the present Russian advantage in those fields.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said that U. S. intelligence agencies had miscalculated the extent of Russia's progress in the missile field.

Although earlier firings were reported, he said, not until October brought the launching of Russia's first sputnik did the Pentagon indicate that the Soviets had ballistic missiles ready for wartime use.

Mahon, chairman of the house defense appropriations subcommittee, said he considers "conservative" an expected $40 billion budget proposal for defense expenditures in the year starting next July 1.

Man Waiting to Take Russian Wife to U. S. Must Leave Moscow

Moscow — John Sandor, a Pueblo, Colo., lawyer awaiting permission to take his Russian bride home, was told today he must leave the Soviet Union. He booked passage for Friday.

The former U. S. navy fighter pilot is still hopeful his appeal to communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev will help him get his wife to the United States.

Sandor married his Russian sweetheart in November after appealing to Khrushchev for permission to enter Russia. But his application to take his wife to the United States has not been answered.

Sandor said he planned to spend at least a month in Copenhagen and Paris before returning to the United States.

Dry Goods Talks Open on Note Of Uncertainty

But Speaker Sees Quick Recovery, Expanding Sales

New York — A note of uncertainty about the outlook for business in the first half of 1958 marks the opening today of the National Retail Dry Goods association convention.

But one of the principal speakers foresees quick recovery followed by expanding sales.

He is Edward W. Carter, president of the Broadway-Halo stores, of Los Angeles.

"I should like to reiterate my conviction that the present rolling business adjustment, manifested in part by a moderate decline in store sales, will probably run its course in 1958, and should be followed during the next 10 years by an irregular expansion in store sales comparable to that of the past 10," Carter said.

High Space Sale

More than 5,000 retail executives, representing 2,300 stores, thronged the Hotel Statler for the 4-day convention. A 52-man delegation from Canada also was registered.

G. Gordon Dakins, executive vice president of the NRPGA, said registration for the sessions, and the sale of exhibit space, was the highest in years. He attributed this in part to "uncertainty of business conditions."

The convention opens with a two-hour demonstration of "ROP," a process of color advertising in daily newspapers.

Richard H. Rich, president of the NRPGA and president of Rich's Inc., Atlanta, Ga., said:

"We think ROP is good. Color is being used more and more by the stores because of its stop value. It pops right out among the black-and-white ads in newspapers."

Explanatory Talks

Explanatory talks on the process were scheduled by Robert Drew, national advertising manager of the Milwaukee Journal; Robert Wood, promotion manager of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune; and O. William Spoor, sales promotion and advertising manager of Loveman's, Birmingham, Ala.

Charles Andrews, sales promotion director of the Nashville Tennessean and the Nashville Banner, presided over the demonstration.

As the convention opened, Dakins released the findings in the NRPGA's annual year-end survey of business conditions. He said 57 per cent of those surveyed in more than 2,000 stores reported either increased earnings or earnings about the same as a year ago.

He said 43 per cent reported lower profits in 1957 compared with 1956.

Poet-Biographer Carl Sandburg Has 80th Birthday; Talks of Life, Death

Flat Rock, N.C. — Lincoln biographer and poet Carl Sandburg today observed his 80th birthday anniversary amid not-too-serious thoughts on the nature of life and death.

"Age is all relative," he told a newsman last week regarding his approaching anniversary. "I've got a younger heart than most of the poets. Three-fourths of the poets we have nowadays were born old."

He predicted waggishly that he will live to be 83 years old, maybe 99. "It's inevitable. It's memorable it's written in the book of fate," he said. "That I about America," he remarked. "Or," he said, "about a man who prayed to God that he live to be an age divisible by 11."

The poet said Russian scientific advances have caused him concern recently. "Unless," he declared, "we carry on with some appreciation of the possible danger in store, unless we can develop a greater degree of awareness and dedication there will be hell to pay."

Currently, said Sandburg, he is rereading the Lincoln-Douglas debates, which took place 100 years ago, and writing a foreword for a book by Harry Golden of Charlotte, editor of the Carolina Israelite.

Testimonial Dinner

Early this month he will be given a testimonial dinner at the University of Illinois, where a "Sandburg room" has been established at the university library, and on Jan. 20 will receive a gold medal award from a Phi Beta Kappa group in Chicago. It was in the Illinois city he worked as a newspaperman in his early years.

He and his wife a sister of famed photographer Edward Steichen, have lived here about 12 years in an antebellum farm home built by Christopher G. Memminger, treasurer of the confederacy.

Indonesia Chief Takes Off for Tour of Asia

Jakarta, Indonesia — President Sukarno, Indonesia's President Sukarno, took off by plane today for India and a 5-week Asian tour denying that he was forced to leave his troubled land.

Sukarno's special Indonesian Airways plane was to refuel at Sumatra, then fly for an overnight stop at Calcutta. He is due to go on to New Delhi, then Cairo, and return to Asia for visits to Pakistan, Burma, Thailand, Ceylon and Japan.

Looking fit despite earlier announcement he had to take a rest cure because he was worn out "physically and mentally," Sukarno told the airport crowd he would work for Indonesia's interests during his trip.

This apparently meant he intended to drum up Asian-African support for Indonesia's campaign against Dutch business interests here and this nation's fight to get control of Dutch West New Guinea.

"There are many abroad who do not like me and the republic of Indonesia and are carrying propaganda that I am being driven out of the country," Sukarno told Indonesian and foreign officials gathered to see him off. "I want to assure you there is perfect unity between myself and Premier Djanda and the chiefs of staff of the armed forces."

State's County Police Officials to See Expert Safe Cracker

About 400 officers from Wisconsin's 71 counties are expected to attend the convention.

Girl Says Man Put Her Into Icebox

El Centro, Calif. — While 500 men searched for her, 3-year-old Mary Ellen Jackson huddled in an icebox into which, she told police, an elderly man placed her after giving her a ride in his car.

Although searchers had looked into the box three times Saturday night, the girl's faithful Sam Jackson, found her there early Sunday. A parking dog attracted him to the box, which was kept in the Jacksons' yard for storing fish. The box had air vents and the child was in no danger of suffocation.

A doctor said the child had not been molested. Neighbors reported seeing two men loitering in the neighborhood Saturday. Mary Ellen was missing 12 hours.

British Declare Pact Offer Intended Only to Foster 'Wider Package'

Macmillan's Nonaggression Talk Catches U. S. and West by Surprise

London — The British foreign office emphasized today that the east-west nonaggression pact suggested by Prime Minister Macmillan was intended only to complement wider agreements.

Macmillan proposed the pact in a political broadcast Saturday, catching the United States and other western allies by surprise.

A foreign office spokesman said Macmillan had not consulted with Western allies before setting forth his idea. The United States is cool but some other western powers are more receptive to the plan.

Wider Agreement

The spokesman emphasized that the pact should be part of a wider package agreement that could perhaps take in arrangements for ending the world arms race.

"What he really was saying was that we must continue to work for agreements which will Kim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dobbs. This is her seventh hospital visit for treatment of broken bones.

Mrs. Dobbs said Kim previously had suffered breaks of the arm, legs, both hips and hand.

Kim's latest breaks came Dec. 31 when she fell off the front seat of the car as Mrs. Dobbs was returning her home from an earlier hospital confinement.

"No bone disease has been diagnosed," Mrs. Dobbs said. "Her bones just seem to break easily."

Child Takes Seventh Trip to Hospital For Broken Bones

Columbus, Ga. — Kim Dobbs, a cute 2-year-old girl from Auburn, Ala., was in St. Francis hospital here today with fractures of both arms and a possible fractured leg.

The experience is old stuff to Kim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Dobbs. This is her seventh hospital visit for treatment of broken bones.

Mrs. Dobbs said Kim previously had suffered breaks of the arm, legs, both hips and hand.

Kim's latest breaks came Dec. 31 when she fell off the front seat of the car as Mrs. Dobbs was returning her home from an earlier hospital confinement.

"No bone disease has been diagnosed," Mrs. Dobbs said. "Her bones just seem to break easily."

Not Especially New

The foreign office spokesman said Macmillan did not consult the United States and other allies beforehand because the idea was not "especially new."

He said a parallel proposal had been made by the west at the 1955 big four summit conference in Geneva in connection with the Peiping and Shanghai.

Trip Was Pleasant

"We may not be able to get a plane until Wednesday," Downey said by telephone. "The trip was pleasant. The Chinese Red Cross sent a representative who spoke English. We lunched on the train. It was part Chinese, part western, including ham and eggs. We are a bit tired, but are looking forward to the rest of the journey."

On Jan. 21, 1955, the communists first invited the mothers to visit their sons, who are imprisoned on spy charges. The state department refused to let them go under its policy of banning all travel to red China by U. S. citizens because the United States has no diplomatic relations with the Peiping regime.

The department suddenly relented last month, about three weeks after Wiren got his passport.

Girl Says Man Put Her Into Icebox

El Centro, Calif. — While 500 men searched for her, 3-year-old Mary Ellen Jackson huddled in an icebox into which, she told police, an elderly man placed her after giving her a ride in his car.

Although searchers had looked into the box three times Saturday night, the girl's faithful Sam Jackson, found her there early Sunday. A parking dog attracted him to the box, which was kept in the Jacksons' yard for storing fish. The box had air vents and the child was in no danger of suffocation.

A doctor said the child had not been molested. Neighbors reported seeing two men loitering in the neighborhood Saturday. Mary Ellen was missing 12 hours.

Roaming Around America

Teacher Picks Up With Circus, Travels Through Eastern States

(Editor's note: This is the fourth in a series of articles written by an English exchange teacher who taught last year at Wilson Junior High school. The series first appeared in the Smethwick, England, Telephone, a weekly newspaper.)

BY JACK NIBLETT

When I left the Rocky Mountain Park I was picked up by a mounted policeman for hitchhiking. (this being against state law unknown to myself). However, after looking at my papers, he questioned me as "Mr. Niblett" (a change from "Bud") and wished me good "hitching."

Cheyenne always sounds a romantic place in western films and stories, but I found it rather dull. The only item of interest to record was my being offered a piece of wedding cake by a bride of that day, at the hotel in which I was staying; her newly acquired spouse sat asleep in a chair, with his mouth open. Apparently the wedding had been a thing of fair!

Friendly Group

Nebraska was a new state for me, with its rolling fields of alfalfa and corn, and its association with William Cody (Buffalo Bill) and the old Oregon trail. At Lexington there were cowboys and Indians in the streets but there were also elephants as well, and they all belonged to a travelling circus, to which I naturally gravitated.

This circus company was an extremely friendly one and upon learning of my interest in circus life, they made me very welcome. This was a real old-fashioned circus, of the type being rare in America, with is so real that it is quite a lot of animals and a pleasant shock to discover that the great family atmosphere. Among the stretch of water is actually troupe was an idol of my boyhood days. Col. Tim McCoy who used to star in western films by one of the toll roads to many years ago, and it was a long-delayed thrill to chat with this genuine cowboy, still an expert in the saddle and with the rifle, and wise in the ways of Indian lore.

I stayed with the circus for three days moving from one town to another, as is common with other circuses in America. The 1-day stand was a fascinating, as well as a most convenient method of travelling as the circus was going my way.

Squalor, Grandeur

It was with regret that I left my friends of the sawdust ring in the hot and dusty little town of Ord and continued on my way to Omaha. This was not a very interesting city, though a glimpse of the famous Boys Town, the institution founded by Father Flanagan, en route.

Then the seemingly endless corn-growing areas of Iowa led me to Davenport where I had a pen-friend awaiting me to show me around this fine city and the banks of the broad Mississippi. Chicago was my next stopping-off place and as usual I found the city a mixture of squalor and grandeur. The sweltering streets and sordid "skid row" contracted the following day: an unusual oddity with the magnificent lake-side drive backed with its superb sky line of lofty buildings it is in England, but this cir-

Doctors Plan 1-Day Course

Circuit Teaching Program Sponsored By Medical Society

Fox Valley physicians will attend a 1-day refresher course in postgraduate medical training Wednesday, Jan. 22, at the Appleton Elks club.

The course is one of a series of 18 circuit teaching programs presented by the state medical society to keep Wisconsin doctors informed on developments in the medical field.

Participants will be Dr. Robert C. Parkin, assistant to dean of the University of Wisconsin medical school; Dr. Anthony R. Curreri, of the UW medical school; Dr. Reynold A. Jensen, of the University of Minnesota medical school; Dr. Karl H. Pfuetze, of the University of Illinois college of medicine; and Dr. Mischa Lustok, of the Marquette university school of medicine.

Subjects to be covered include treatment of cancer, the mentally retarded child, tuberculosis and hypertensive treatments. The session will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and an evening program consisting of a general symposium and question and answer period will follow dinner.

The course is being sponsored by a local charitable organization and they were combining to make the parade a success. So as a student of circus history I was delighted to see some of the old style circus wagons, the steam calliope the band wagon, the elephants, the horses and the gaily costumed company once more on parade along the city streets. To say nothing of the circus brothers, Jake and Jack Mills riding in a pink Cadillac.

I stayed with the Mills Brothers circus for just over a week, entering into the daily rhythm of travelling circus life. There were the everyday move in the early morning, the "build-up," the crowds rolling up for the afternoon show, the little rest in the lull before the evening show and after that was over the "pull-down" and the all-too-short nightly rest.

International Affair

The circus in America, as elsewhere is an international affair, and I dined with artists from America, England, Denmark, Mexico and many other countries.

All were friendly and many were the cups of tea I had in the living wagons of the English artists; whilst cups of coffee were often forthcoming from the circus stars of other countries.

The small, neat towns of New York state, unsophisticated and charming, welcomed the circus, and I not wishing to be a "passenger" on the show, assisted by "packing" the big top, and also kept the unreserved ticket holders out of the reserved seats. My British accent, as a means of intimidating gate-crashers, came in very useful here.

No Onions for College On Big Date Evenings

Cambridge, Mass.—(AP)—Radcliffe college girls who know their onions know this about them: They don't want them. And thanks to the efforts of their food committee, they won't have them.

Henceforth, Friday dinners and Saturday lunches and dinners will not include onions on dormitory menus.

Why are onions taboo on those particular days?

Maybe because they're big date days at Radcliffe.

Beautiful Models Show Impact Of Advertising With Color

Fashion Tableau Opens National Dry Goods Association Convention

BY WALTER BUSSEWITZ

New York — A — About 10 o'clock this morning, some beautiful New York models stepped into cutouts of giant-sized animated newspaper pages in the roof garden of a midtown hotel.

Before an audience of 5,000 men, the girls appeared for a moment in black and white creations of Lily Dache and other famous designers. The lights went out, then came on again to reveal the models dressed in the same fashions but in a variety of vibrant colors.

This tableau opened the first session of the 47th annual convention of the National Retail Dry Goods Association. The 2-hour session gave merchants some ideas on how they can better advertise their goods by using colors in newspapers.

Artists' Works
The convention, which runs through Thursday night, has as its theme, "Changing Concepts and New Opportunities in Retailing." The varied program will include a session on "creativity" in which the Museum of Modern Art will present examples of the works of such artists as Van Gogh, Dali, Picasso and others. The purpose of this meeting will be to show the relationship between design concepts in "long-haired" art and down-to-earth retailing.

Other highlights will be a forecast of the 1958 economic picture by Malcolm McNair, professor of retailing, graduate school of business administration, Harvard university, and a closing dinner address by Fred Lazarus, Jr., chairman of the board of Federated Department Stores, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Richard H. Rich, president of the NRDA and president of Rich's, Inc., Atlanta, Ga., said the association is placing special emphasis on its keynote session, titled "The Impact of Run-Of-Paper (ROP) Color on Retail Advertising."

Continuous Process
This means color advertising in the main sections as opposed to the rotogravure or comic sections. ROP ads can be printed in a continuous process, without stopping the press run.

The association, in a survey of 2,000 retail stores, reported that 68 per cent of the stores said ROP color is available to them in their local newspapers, and of these 53 per cent said they use it.

Of those using ROP color ads, 54 per cent of the stores said they get "fair" results, 38 per cent said they get "good" results, and eight per cent get "poor results."

Edward F. Engle, manager of the NRDA sales promotion division, said "That's a range remarkably high average of hits against misses. We really believe ROP color has come of age."

Simulate Business
Engle said, "We regard color as one of the most important new developments in communicating with customers to come along in many years. The reason simply is that 99 per cent of our merchandise is in color. We have to spend time describing it in black and white ads. Now we have the means to portray it in its original color, which we predict will stimulate the fashion and home furnishings business."

Rich said his department store uses color "very extensively for institutional pages because of its stop value and to a limited degree for fashions. I think it will grow because of the very mass of advertising in newspapers; it makes the ad stand out over the many black and white ads."

In exploring ROP color, the NRDA has worked closely with the National Advertising Executives association and the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers association.

The bureau of advertising in its presentation today said that ROP ranks with wirephoto as one of the outstanding technological achievements in the newspaper field in the past 25 years.

Color Ads Jump
According to the bureau, color ads in 200 newspapers jumped from 47 million lines in 1951 to 109 million in 1956.

Robert Drew, advertising manager of the Milwaukee Journal, will tell retailers about the paper's test runs of ads in black and white and color in the same editions. A survey for the Journal recently showed that retail ads showed a color advantage of 51 per cent for men and 39 per cent for women.

The difference, according to the experts, "reflects the inherent interest of women in any retail advertising whether or not color is used."

While the big interest in ROP color in advertising is quite recent, the use of color in newspapers goes back many years. According to best available records, the Milwaukee Journal became the first paper to use it Jan. 5, 1891. It ran a red, white and blue banner headline to celebrate the inauguration of a new governor.

Two Drivers Escape Injury in Tree Crashes
Two drivers escaped injury over the weekend when their vehicles left county roads and hit trees.

Richard L. Procknow, 18, 116 S. Locust street, lost control of his car Sunday night when it spun off E. Calumet street about a half mile east of Appleton and hit a tree. Procknow told county police he was traveling about 30 to 35 miles an hour.

A bakery truck driven by Andrew E. Reis, 33, DePere, skidded into a ditch and hit a tree Friday on a town road about 2 1/2 miles east of Highway 55 and County Trunk G. Reis told county police the truck began moving from side to side, then skidded into the ditch.

Thieves Steal Gas
Charles Kelllogg, 608 Nassau street, New London, told Sheriff Donald Heimritz Saturday that thieves broke into the Mo-Ski-Tow warming house, near New London, between Thursday and Saturday and stole 30 gallons of gas and damaged a candy vending machine.

Hit and Run
Appleton police are looking for a yellow car which was damaged when it hit a telephone pole near 907 E. Winnebago street Saturday evening. The pole was broken by the impact. Witnesses said the car drove away immediately after hitting the pole.

Drive Kick-Off Set for Tonight

General Phase of Hospital Campaign Begins With Dinner

The $700,000 completion fund campaign for Appleton Memorial hospital will swing into high gear tonight when approximately 200 campaign workers and leaders launch the general phase of the drive at a kick-off dinner in Franklin school gymnasium.

The kick-off will activate the special gifts and commercial-local divisions, the last two groups to solicit.

The Rev. Ralph T. Alton, pastor of First Methodist church, will be principle speaker. Robert J. Spooner, chairman of the special gifts division will preside.

According to General Chairman Carl J. Schroeder, who will also be on tonight's program, the divisions kicking off tonight will give impetus to the solicitation efforts of the other groups which have been working for the past month.

"We have only about 20 days left in which to raise the remaining $299,000," said Schroeder. "It won't be an easy job, but we are confident that the people of Appleton will come through."

According to Raymond G. Kleist and Norman Golz, vice chairmen of the special gifts division and co-chairmen William Cherkasky and Robert Swaby who head the commercial-local division, both groups are ready to swing into action. Planning and assignment meetings were held last week and many of the workers toured the new hospital to see first hand the facilities for which they are soliciting.

Fire Damages Hortonville Farm Home

Hortonville — The interior of the John Reimer farm home on route 1, Hortonville, was destroyed by fire about 2:45 Saturday afternoon.

Reimer, who lived alone on the farm, was not home when the fire started. A passerby called the Hortonville fire department. Two trucks were at the fire by two hours.

Fire Chief Lawrence Mader said the fire apparently started in defective wiring in the bathroom and quickly burned in the wall to the basement.

Nearly all of Reimer's effects and household goods were destroyed or badly damaged in the fire.

Reimer moved to the home of his sister, Mrs. John Nussbaum, route 2, Shiocion, about a mile away from his burned out home, after the fire.

1957 Sets All-Time Record For Communicable Disease

The incidence of communicable disease in Appleton, led by new records in mumps and chickenpox reached an all-time high in 1957, Deputy City Health Officer Claude N. Greisch reported this morning.

A total of 4,376 cases of communicable disease were reported to Greisch during the year, compared with 3,043 in 1956, the previous record high.

A growing population and continued improvement in the reporting system by physicians were listed as principal reasons for the upswing.

Mumps was the leader, with 1,853 cases reported in contrast to 1,240 in 1956 and 1,033 in 1951, the previous record year.

Chickenpox
Next came chickenpox, with 1,046 cases. The total compares with 830 last year, the previous worst year.

Increases over 1956 totals also were found for measles, rubella, scarlet fever, whooping cough and strep infection, but none of them surpasses the all-time records of previous years.

Measles cases totaled 791 compared with the all-time record of 1,882 a year ago. Rubella, or German measles cases totaled 622, compared with 34 last year and 1,484 in 1953. There were 45 cases of scarlet fever, 12 more than a year ago and nowhere near the record 141 of 1936. Seven cases each of whooping cough and strep infection were reported. These compare with six cases last year and 68 in 1946 for whooping cough and three cases last year and five the year before that for strep infections.

Mumps Second
The present nemesis is chickenpox, with 22 cases reported during the week ended Saturday and 271 reported for December.

Mumps is running second at present, with six cases reported last week and 74 during December. Two cases of scarlet fever during December rounds out his latest weekly and monthly reports.

Seidl Signs Ambulance Pact With City

Safety Committee To Continue Study On Other Proposals

Larry Seidl, operator of Larry's ambulance, today signed a contract with the city to furnish ambulance service jointly with Harold Linzmeyer, operator of Lindy's ambulance.

Under terms of the contract, he will receive a subsidy of $1,000 during calendar year 1958. Linzmeyer earlier signed a similar contract.

The contracts stem from an offer authorized by the city council Dec. 18. The Post-Crescent erroneously reported Friday that the council had rescinded the Dec. 18 offer and referred the contracts back to the public safety committee for study.

Work of Razing House For Parking Lot Nearly Complete

Work of razing the former Ada Myers home at the northwest corner of E. Lawrence street and S. Morrison street is almost complete. Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski reported this morning.

The land will become a city-owned parking lot. The house and lot were purchased in April for $30,000. Kuhn Enterprises, which holds the city contract for the razing, has to bring in a tractor to level the basement of the former house and then city crews will level the lot. Duszynski said.

Work of Razing House For Parking Lot Nearly Complete

Work of razing the former Ada Myers home at the northwest corner of E. Lawrence street and S. Morrison street is almost complete. Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski reported this morning.

The land will become a city-owned parking lot. The house and lot were purchased in April for $30,000. Kuhn Enterprises, which holds the city contract for the razing, has to bring in a tractor to level the basement of the former house and then city crews will level the lot. Duszynski said.

Traffic Police Coordination

Another year has passed without explicit action toward a goal that Gov. Thomson and other leaders of the state and local governments of Wisconsin have hailed as essential for an efficient attack upon the highway safety problem — the coordination of state and county police enforcement programs.

When the state traffic patrol was enlarged and established upon its present lines by the 1955 legislature, one of the assumptions implicit in the legislation was that the new state officers and the existing county police would work out spheres of responsibility and methods of collaboration for most productive use of their combined manpower.

Gov. Thomson alluded to that need several times during the public discussions of public issues that featured his campaign for election. Four months ago he named a coordinating study committee, containing state, local and public representatives. But little has been heard about it or its work since that time.

This is the kind of a problem that is easy to sweep under the political rug. It is an awkward administrative matter, and one that the motor vehicle driver is unlikely to ponder over.

Yet it is one that the serious-minded public leaders of our state know is a vital one — in relation to the grisly story of highway deaths and property losses. We will never be able to audit the effectiveness of the new and larger state patrol, or the need for further extensions of its manpower and equipment, until there is an honest to goodness machinery of cooperation between that corps and the separate county forces.

For ourselves, we are not sanguine about the prospects of voluntary collaboration, except as it may be claimed in official speeches and press releases. We share the view of Sen. Frank Panzer of Dodge county, that wise old veteran of the state legislature, who said back in 1955 that the open road law enforcement challenge of the state must finally be met by a forcible consolidation of police manpower. Surely there will be skepticism among taxpayers of Wisconsin about the ambitions of the state motor vehicle department to expand its patrol, until there has been an earnest effort at coordinating the present forces.

Mayor Knutson Tries to Get the News

It may be concluded from an article in the LaCrosse Tribune that the police in that city are not the friendly, gossip type. At least not when newsmen are about.

It happens that the mayor of LaCrosse is Milo G. Knutson who also is news director of radio station WKTY. It might be supposed that a news director in the high office of mayor would have no difficulty in picking up the official bits of news around the city hall, but things are not always as easy as they seem. Naturally News Director Knutson has no difficulty in interviewing Mayor Knutson, but when it comes to covering the police it is a different matter.

Recently Reporter Robert Gehl of the Tribune and News Director Knutson of WKTY learned that a 15-year-old girl had been attacked by an unidentified assailant and that ten days later a married woman in LaCrosse apparently had been attacked by the same person. It was obvious to the newsmen that the police had been covering up. To set the matter right, a conference was called by Mayor Knutson. He invited Reporter Gehl, the chief of police and a police detective. Of course News Director Knutson was present in spirit and coached Mayor Knutson on matters of news policy.

The outcome of the conference is not clear. However, the chief of police acknowledged somewhat reluctantly that the public "maybe" should have been informed about the first attack. The detective supported the chief by saying that when the first case was reported the police thought it was "another case of a youth attempting to get fresh with a girl" and somehow he intimated that such things should be kept quiet.

For those who believe that mayors really run things in their cities, it is interesting that the conference in Mayor Knutson's office on the police news policy was the fourth since he was elected about three years ago.

Likewise, for those who are sure police chiefs run things in their departments, the Tribune story carried some information. The chief on one occasion told reporters they might publish items marked "no publicity" since those signs were unofficial and merely indicated the wishes of the people involved. But when word of the chief's decision reached the police department policemen threatened to conceal the books from the reporters.

Reporter Gehl has wearily concluded that "self appointed news editors in the police department" feel they are qualified to say what should or should not be published and they are having their way about it. We think he is right and will continue to be right so long as no one is running the department. There is a good place here for News Director Knutson to coach Mayor Knutson, and nothing those fellows could do jointly could be more important.

No More 'Wretched Refuse' Wanted?

Times change and new times call for new things. For 70 years travelers entering New York harbor have been greeted by the Statue of Liberty. Impressive as Frederic Auguste Bartholdi's statue is, it is no more impressive than Emma Lazarus' great poem The New Colossus which is engraved on a tablet within the main entrance.

The most memorable of the lines are the concluding ones:

... Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-
tost to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden shore.

Today many come to America by plane and miss the Statue of Liberty altogether. But somehow the Port of New York Authority thought they should have at least a part of the Lazarus poem and so they had some of the concluding lines engraved on a plaque on the new Arrival building at Idlewild airport. But the Port Authority thought the fine people of Europe might not regard themselves as "wretched refuse" and so they omitted the third line. "The wretched refuse of your teeming shore."

Austin J. Tobin, executive director of the authority, takes credit for having the lines engraved on the new building, and the blame, if any, for having omitted the "offensive" line. "That line had meaning during the mass migrations of the Nineteenth century, but it has no meaning now," says Tobin.

Tobin does not think the line offensive when applied to his ancestors. He says, "My ancestors were wretched refuse — they came over here after the potato famine." He seems to be a little proud of being the descendant of "wretched refuse" and that leaves us wondering why he thinks others might resent the term.

Washington Wants to Control Education

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The social planners and welfare state advocates have sold the president on federal aid to education. They lost the last round when Ike's federal school construction bill was defeated in Congress, but they have bounced back forcefully — riding a tidal-wave of hysteria caused by Russian technological advances — with a proposal to give grants in aid to the states on a 50-50 matching basis combined with an all-federal scholarship program.

Each year Washington dictates more and more to the state legislatures the amounts and ways state funds are to be spent under the federal matching grants in aid system. At the rate this system is advancing it will not be too long before the state legislature is nothing more than an administrative branch of the federal government — which no doubt is a goal of the "socialists and communists."

Folsom states: "We must work to strengthen — not weaken — the American tradition of local control of education"; then says such grants will be used "to encourage the states and local school systems to provide more and better teaching of science and mathematics" and to encourage "more systematic testing of the abilities and attitudes of students" and to support improved counseling and guidance of young students. In other words the federal government will control the use of these funds (which when used include only 50 per cent federal money but 100 per cent federal control), but deny that it is doing so.

What Others are Saying

Education Forwards Freedom

From a Resolution of the Wisconsin Education association

The Wisconsin Education association concurs with the National Education association that "education is the inalienable right of every American; and that it is essential to our society for the promotion and preservation of democratic ideals."

We further believe that every teacher should vigorously strive to manifest this conviction both in the classroom, by helping to develop in students those ideas of freedom and self-discipline which are essential for good citizenship and in the community by becoming an active, informed private citizen with intelligent concern for matters of public welfare.

Republicans Badly Disorganized As Congress Begins New Session

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY
(Copyright, 1957)

Congress meets again. Its members are coming back into Washington from home where they have been listening to their constituents and now know that there is widespread discontent throughout the country for various reasons.

Congress is returning in an unhappy frame of mind, particularly the Republicans who do not know what the answer is.

In 1923, the Republican party was the majority party of the United States; the population was still prevailing rural and there was an enormous, if inflationary, prosperity in all the land. By 1932, it was otherwise. The country was in the depth of the depression; poverty stalked about a third of the nation; cities and states were bankrupt. The Democrats came to power under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It was not until 1946 that the Republicans were returned to power in congress in its 80th session. They had a majority in the senate and the house. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was the leader of the party in congress and his coalition with a group of southern senators gave him really effective power. The president was Harry Truman who, in office, was not as respected as he has since become.

Taft Had Edge
The candidate for president in 1948 was Thomas E. Dewey, governor of New York, who was not elected. This defeat gave the Democrats additional strength because Truman got rid, in his second term, of extremist left wing elements in the Democratic party. Among Republicans, it was certain that Robert A. Taft would be elected to the presidency.

However, Thomas E. Dewey and a group of businessmen, many of them not heretofore involved in Republican politics, selected Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who was in Paris running NATO, to be the candidate. Eisenhower had never been a partisan; in fact, when his candidacy was first proposed, he had never voted in an election, as professional soldiers do not. In 1948, Harry Truman had given him consideration as the candidate for the Democratic party when the wise men told Truman that he could not be elected. Eisenhower possessed no experience in civil administration or skill in party politics.

Nevertheless, he was nominated and elected in 1952 by an enormous vote and entered upon his first term as one of the most popular of presidents. If ever a man had a chance to rebuild a party, it was Eisenhower. However, he had no Republican tradition and there must be a vindictive strain in his nature because he soon showed a marked dislike for all the supporters of Robert A. Taft and Gen. Douglas MacArthur. He appointed a mediocre New England governor, Sherman Adams, as his political mentor and manipulator.

The Republicans controlled the senate for the first two years of the Eisenhower administration, but this period was wasted in an interminable war between Sen. McCarthy and the White House, the consequence of which was that the Republicans soon lost their narrow majority in the senate. Whereas Eisenhower won by an enormous majority, Republicans in congress and Republican governors did not do so well. In the 1954 congressional election, the Republicans lost the congress, as they did in 1956, when Eisenhower was again overwhelmingly elected.

Resent "Moderns"
One of the major political difficulties of the Eisenhower administration is that men do not disappear as rapidly as it may be politically desirable.

In a word, most active Republicans are still men and women who antedate Eisenhower in their party and they are resentful of the so-called "modern Republicans" who have come from nowhere into the party. Whose names and faces are unknown to Republicans and some of whom have had, according to other Republicans, reprehensible careers in the new and fair deals. The result is that the party is everywhere split and factional and there is no leadership in Washington which is acknowledged throughout the land.

In fact, Sherman Adams has taken on an unpopularity which makes of him the party whipping boy, he being blamed for all the disasters that have befallen the party. So this is the party that President Eisenhower faces as congress reassembles. Never in its history, not even in periods of total defeat, has the Republican party been so weak and disunited. It is difficult to recall another example of a political party growing steadily weaker while its own president is in the White House.

Report Democrats Seek Financier on Ticket

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Notes from a statehouse diary:

A rumor that persists in Democratic party circles is that some of the moguls hope to lure Francis Conway, one of the state's leading financiers, to their state ticket in 1958. Conway is the head of the Thorp Finance company, and a newly elected director of the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce.

Because Wisconsin has always prized its national guard and because of the great traditions of the Wisconsin militia, there will be a good deal of interest in a new history of the militia, from earliest times, written by Prof. William Riker, Lawrence college political science teacher.

More Madison Democrats are starting to complain, and audibly, about the quixotic behavior of Publicist W. T. Evjue, for so long regarded as the father confessor of Wisconsin liberals.

GOP Chairman Philip Kuehn has written associates in the party that he was appalled at the "leaks" from the recent GOP strategy session here. doesn't know who caused them, but wishes he did. Kuehn can probably take an educated guess, however, and find that it coincides with that of most others concerned about this patient exhibition of disloyalty within the party hierarchy.

Frank Hausheer, the manager of the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce, writes in the most recent bulletin addressed to dues-paying Wisconsin businessmen about Washington fiscal prospects:

"Hopes for tax reduction have pretty much gone down the drain . . ."

Sometimes the "checks and balances" idea in state affair appears to be applied excessively. When the state conservation department's service agencies want to buy a truck, for example, they get the approval of the conservation director, then the conservation commission, then the budget bureau, then the state building commission, and finally, the bureau of purchases.

The by-stander may wonder whether the mountains of paper work involved, by high priced officials, don't erase the discount advantages the state has over private purchaser in such situations.

The police and fire associations and the League of Wisconsin Municipalities are miffed because Gov. Thomson didn't follow their wishes on the appointment of the new public employee retirement policy committee. The League hoped to get its own nominee on the commission, as it did two years ago. The police and fire lobby wanted a mouthpiece, too.

Some Wisconsin insurance underwriters were displeased when the huge state employee group life insurance contract was recently awarded to a St. Paul company — as it had to be under the state's public contract laws. But the St. Paul company has reinsured, a part of the risk with Madison and Oshkosh life companies, which may reduce some of the grumbling about the situation. Most state employees, by the way, know a good thing when they see it and are signing up for the generously low priced insurance program.

Republican field workers report a greater awareness among county courthouse Republican incumbents about the need for grass roots campaigning this year.

Top Officials, Press Grow Farther Apart

Progressive Information Blackout Results From Ike, Cabinet Members

BY THOMAS L. STOKES

Washington—There has been an almost imperceptible change in our government press relations, and it is time for us to take account of it.

Stokes

Since the president himself sets the standard, we can start with him, and a new year offers an opportunity for a review.

As a matter of record, President Eisenhower has not held a news conference since Oct. 30. There have been reasons, such as his mild stroke in November which, however, interrupted his routine only briefly, and the NATO conference in Paris only two weeks after his illness. His regimen has been restricted to some extent and he spends more time in Gettysburg.

But many momentous and portentous events have happened during which there has been a blackout of any direct contact between the president and the press. We did get a brief report of spunk at one presidential press conference but in the gap since there has been a second earth satellite, the Vanguard failure and the NATO sessions.

As a matter of fact, President Eisenhower has made the role of press secretary much beyond what it has been and should be. This stems from the emergency at the time of his heart attack in Denver in 1955 and it was further intensified by his illness attack. Jim Hagerty, indeed then was a poobah of a high order. In previous administrations it was not the function of the press secretary to speak in areas of high policy.

During the war, when less attention was paid to the regular cabinet departments the press conferences began to be abandoned and the newspapers got out of the habit of insisting on them. We have a new generation of reporters to whom the system of very little contact with the president and his cabinet officers is the usual normal and accepted order of things.

Three of the present cabinet have a better record than their associates in holding conferences. Secy. of State John Foster Dulles holds them regularly, but Cordell Hull held them daily during his 12 years as secretary of state.

Recently appointed Atty. Gen. William Rogers is setting up press conferences as compared with his predecessor, Herbert Brownell, Jr., who almost never held them. Secy. of Labor James P. Mitchell once called them occasionally. Now, with the economic recession, rising cost of living and increasing unemployment as paramount issues, he holds them more frequently.

The tendency of top administration officials to see less of the press has trickled down, in its influence, to officials below, not only in their departments but in special independent agencies that have become so vital to government today. This was graphically revealed by the Moss committee of the house and the Hennings committee of the senate, which found in a wide area all sorts of inhibitions imposed on information to which the public is entitled.

As the two committees pursued their inquiry, they had cited to them repeatedly a section of the United States code enacted way back in 1789. It was, as Sen. Hennings described it, merely a house-keeping statute giving the department head authority to "prescribe regulations, not inconsistent with law, for the government of his department, the conduct of its officers and clerks, the distribution and performance of its business, and the custody, use, and preservation of the records, papers, and property appertaining to it."

The identical Moss and Hennings bills meet this situation by adding this sentence: "This section does not authorize withholding information from the public or limiting the availability of records to the public." The awareness of the public to the progressive information blackout is currently reflected by increasing letters to editors expressing resentment toward a press secretary speaking for the chief executive and toward a general lack of information as to what is going on in Washington.

Money Cannot Solve Problems In School System

'Modernists' Wreck Traditional Method of Education in America

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Money isn't the cure for everything—in educating scientists or in educating "spunkies," either. Money cannot buy judgment where there is stupidity and shortsightedness. Money by itself cannot undo the wrongs done in recent decades by the so-called "modernists" who have largely been responsible for the wrecking of the traditional system of education in America.

Nor can the Eisenhower administration, by proclaiming that its newly announced program of one billion dollars for scholarships is only "temporary," assure that the policy will not mean permanent control of education in America by the federal government.

Maybe the federal government should control the educational system of the country, and maybe the states and cities have indeed blundered beyond repair, but there is no proof of it. The customary way before embarking on such a revolutionary change in policy on a fundamental question is for congress or the state legislatures to make a thorough investigation, fix the blame and point out the courses that should be followed.

Memorandum Issued

For in a memorandum issued at the White House a few days ago by the secretary of health, education and welfare, it is stated that "one out of five students in the upper fourth of their class drops out of high school before graduation." The official document further says: "Many intellectually able young people drop out of school chiefly because of lack of desire or incentive for education, or lack of money to pay for it."

No one has come forth to explain why these students who could afford to go on with their education didn't have the incentive to do so. Who is to blame? Were they given the proper counseling? Why, for instance, as the official memorandum reveals, does it happen that "only one out of three high school graduates has had a year of chemistry, only one out of four has taken a year of physics and only one out of three has had more than one year of algebra?"

And why is there a shortage of good teachers?

Authoritative Body

When some authoritative body makes a thorough survey of what has been going on for several years now — a situation which has caused much concern inside the educator groups in America — the time will be at hand to decide what money shall be appropriated, where it can be best utilized, and how the same mistakes that have been made in recent years can be avoided.

It is, of course, supposed to be politically popular nowadays to spend federal funds for education. Pressure groups for years have been pushing it hard, but they have run up against the segregation-integration controversy which has stalled the legislative program. Now, with federal scholarship grants going to individuals instead of to institutions, it may be that the constitutional and political problems will be avoided.

The biggest hurdle, however, that will be faced in deciding on the whole scholarship program is the attitude of educators themselves. Many feel that the "spunkie" episode is causing politicians to go overboard in for science, while neglecting the fundamentals of a good education.

Need System

What is needed, of course, is a system which is devoted to attaining for the youth of America a well-rounded education and which recognizes early enough the aptitudes of every individual student and steers that student into the field in which he or she can serve best.

The state and city universities in America have considerable funds and the charitable foundations and private foundations can supplement these funds. If there is need for a federal "emergency" fund it has not yet been clearly demonstrated. Once a program which is half-said Subject — and what is needed as "temporary" is set up, it is likely to become permanent and the federal government may be saddled with the principal responsibility for supporting education in America, at least through this has always been a

Folding Panel Doors on Wardrobes at Trinity Lutheran school attracted much attention Sunday when open house was held in conjunction with dedication ceremonies of the $80,000 addition and remodeling project completed earlier this year. Hundreds of persons turned out to view what proper use of floor space could add in the way of classrooms. Extra rooms became available as a result of cutting down on hall space and large cloakrooms. 48 New Home Permits Given During 1957

Kimberly — A total of 48 permits for new homes were issued in Kimberly during 1957, according to Eugene Hicpas, building inspector.

Two permits were given out late in December one to Herman Strobel for a $12,000 home at 332 S. Patrick street and the other to Edward Hofkens construction company for a $20,000 home at 339 S. Ann street.

The estimated cost of the 48 new homes given permits during the year is $622,700. In 1956 a total of 72 new homes were built for a new record. The estimated cost total last year was $946,000.

Other permits issued recently by the inspector included one to Marvin Schness, 327 Pine street to finish an upstairs at a cost of $3,400; one to Marvin Jansen, 929 E. Maes avenue, for a garage estimated to cost $600 and to Edward Hofkens construction company for a $3,000 addition to a warehouse.

126 Persons Pay Taxes on Second Day of Collection

Kaukauna — A total of 126 people paid real estate taxes on the second day of collection this year compared to 235 on the second day last year, according to Miss Ruth Wolf, city treasurer.

The treasurer collected $14,304.64 in real estate taxes on the second day of collection compared to $10,381.46 in 1957. Five persons paid personal property taxes on the second day of collection in 1957 and in 1958. Amount collected this year in personal property was $1,735.74 compared to only $243.61 last year.

Real estate taxes on the first two days of collection are far ahead of the paying pace of last year both in amount collected and the number of persons paying. The same number of people paid personal property taxes but the amount paid to date in 1958 is greater than in 1957.

Tax Bills Mailed, Collections Set

Combined Locks — Tax bills have been mailed to property owners at Combined Locks and collection dates have been listed by treasurer, Jack Seitz.

Taxes will be collected between 5 o'clock and 7:30 in for science, while neglecting the fundamentals of a good education.

The tax levy for the village is $106,550.55.

In charge of the meeting will be Walter Brick and Elmer Schoen, members of the temporary organization committee.

Parking Leads List of Arrests During December

Kaukauna — Kaukauna police made 154 arrests during December, 141 of them for violation of the parking ordinances, according to the monthly report released Saturday by Harold V. Engerson, chief of police.

Included in parking arrests were 75 for violation of the 1-hour parking ordinance, two for violation of the 2-hour parking limit and 64 for violation of the ordinance prohibiting parking on city streets from 1 to 5 o'clock in the morning. Other arrests included seven for speeding, one for dumping garbage in the city, two for disorderly conduct, one for operating a vehicle without a license, one for burning rubbish and one for selling beer to minors.

Nine speeders were warned and 42 persons were warned for parking violations. Other activities included 109 calls answered, 17 accidents policed, $1,000 in lost or stolen property recovered and seven merchants' doors found open after hours.

13 Students Take Both High School, College Classes

New York — Thirteen students are attending both high school and college classes, and are doing very well in both.

Starting last fall, nine seniors and four juniors at Manhattan College High school enrolled in courses at Manhattan college. Both schools are located on the same campus.

The juniors, taking college intermediate Spanish, thus far have received two A's and two B's. The seniors, taking college freshmen courses in English, Latin, German and mathematics, have racked up eight A's, seven B's and four C's between them.

The 13 students also carry a full load of high school studies. Brother Arnold of Mary, F.S.C. said yesterday it is up to individual colleges to decide whether the high school students present college work will be accepted as credits when they fully matriculate at a higher institution of learning.

Hundreds Visit Trinity School

Open House Held in Conjunction With Dedication Service

Kaukauna — Hundreds of Kaukauna and area citizens took advantage of the open house at Trinity Lutheran school Sunday afternoon to tour the $80,000 addition and remodeling project carried out during the summer. Work on the project was started in June and completed shortly after the opening of school in September.

Brief dedication services were held in the morning in the school auditorium under the direction of the Rev. Paul Th. Oehlert, pastor. The dedication services were held between the 8 o'clock and 9:30 worship services. Special guest speaker for the worship services was the Rev. Dr. Henry A. Koch, Morrison.

Light refreshments were served in the church dining room throughout the open house period. Visitors viewed two new classrooms in the new addition and saw the results of general remodeling to the older portion of the building. The remodeling provided additional classroom space, lavatories, teacher's room and nurse's station.

Workers Named For Polio Drive At Combined Locks

Combined Locks — Workers have been named for the annual March of Dimes drive at Combined Locks, according to Mrs. Ray Jansen, campaign chairman.

Containers have been placed in business places around the village. Charles Ehke has been named to head the drive at the Combined Paper company.

Workers who will canvass the village include Mrs. Earl Jansen, Mrs. Ervin Robinson, Mrs. Glen Aerts, Mrs. Edward Tilly, Mrs. Maurice Bierstecker, Mrs. Pat Van Dalen, Mrs. Martin Bolwerk, Mrs. John Schumacher, Mrs. Carolyn Grafmeier, Mrs. Joan Seigel, Mrs. Archie Jansen, Mrs. Wayne Hull, Mrs. Joseph Van Wert, Mrs. Richard Witten, Mrs. Harry Lawers and Mrs. Walter Wildenberg.

217-564 Lead Darboy League

Darboy — Joe Wittman of Schwalbach tavern rapped a 217 game and Gene Erbrecht hit a 594 series to share individual honors in the Darboy Bowling league at S and B alleys.

Team honors went to Kirk and Gosz with a 926 game and a 2,584 series. Kirk and Gosz won three games from Schwalbach drunks to take over first place as the second round of competition got underway. Two teams are tied for second place with two wins and one defeat.

Other high individual scores were led by Norm Kirk, 545 and Gene Erbrecht, 201, 296.

Kaukauna Births

Kaukauna — The following births were reported over the weekend at the Kaukauna Community hospital:

Daughter to: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Agen, 1117 Crooks avenue, Kaukauna.

Son to: Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Baumgart, route 4, Appleton.

Building Costs During '57 Set At $1,085,955

Commercial Work Is Off, Drops City Below 1956 Total

Kaukauna — Total estimated building costs in Kaukauna in 1957 were $1,085,955 or $333,670 below the 1956 total of 1,419,625, according to the annual report released Saturday by Lottar Kemp, assistant building inspector.

Last year's total was the highest recorded and bettered the previous record year of 1954 when construction costs amounted to $1,384,725. New commercial construction in 1957 compared to 1956 accounts for the difference. Only five new commercial structures were erected in 1957, costing a total of $56,000 compared to nine new structures in 1956 costing a total of $433,045 or $397,045 more.

Nine commercial alteration and repair projects in 1957 cost a total of $204,575 compared to 15 permits for alterations in 1956, estimated cost set at $125,200 or $79,375 less than in 1957. Total commercial construction cost in 1957 was $260,575 compared to $578,245 in 1956, a difference of $317,670.

Commercial Building

The five commercial buildings erected in 1957 included a $10,000 warehouse for a fuel company, a $13,500 rest home, a $14,000 lodge at the Girl Scout camp site, a $10,000 warehouse for the Kaukauna Machine and Foundry division of Giddings and Lewis and an $8,500 tavern.

Major commercial alteration projects included a $105,000 addition to the Kaukauna Vocational school and an $80,000 addition to the Trinity Lutheran school. The balance of the amount was due to small repair projects in several stores.

Home Construction

The building inspector issued 66 permits for new homes in 1956 and a like number in 1957. Total new home construction cost in 1956 was estimated at $759,300 compared to $762,700 in 1957, an increase of only $3,400.

Sixty-six permits for residential repairs and alterations were issued in 1956, estimated cost of the work set at $62,130 whereas in 1957, 52 permits were issued with estimated cost of the work set at $35,335 or $26,595 less than the previous year.

Total residential building costs for 1957 amounted to $825,380, including 47 garage and four shed permits. Total residential building costs in 1956 amounted to $841,380, including 37 new garages and three sheds.

New homes constructed during the year showed 11 built in the First ward, seven in the Second ward, 31 in the Third ward, 15 in the Fourth ward and only two in the Fifth ward. Best home building month in the year was April when 11 permits were issued. Other months totals included one in January and February, seven in March, nine in May, five in June and July, eight in August and October, three in September and four in November and December.

A total of 183 building permits were issued in 1957 compared to 196 in 1956; eight television antenna permits compared to 58 in 1956 and two moving permits compared to 10 in 1956.

The inspector issued two wrecking permits in 1957 compared to eight in 1956; 19 sign permits compared to 23 in 1956, 92 plumbing permits compared to 89 in 1956; 67 heating permits compared to 84 in 1956; 55 drainlaying permits compared to 62 in 1957 and 130 gas permits compared to none in 1956.

A total of 558 permits were issued in 1957, bringing in a total of $708,60 in fees collected compared to 488 permits in 1956 bringing in a total of $721,70.

Gaffney Blasts 243-636 Counts

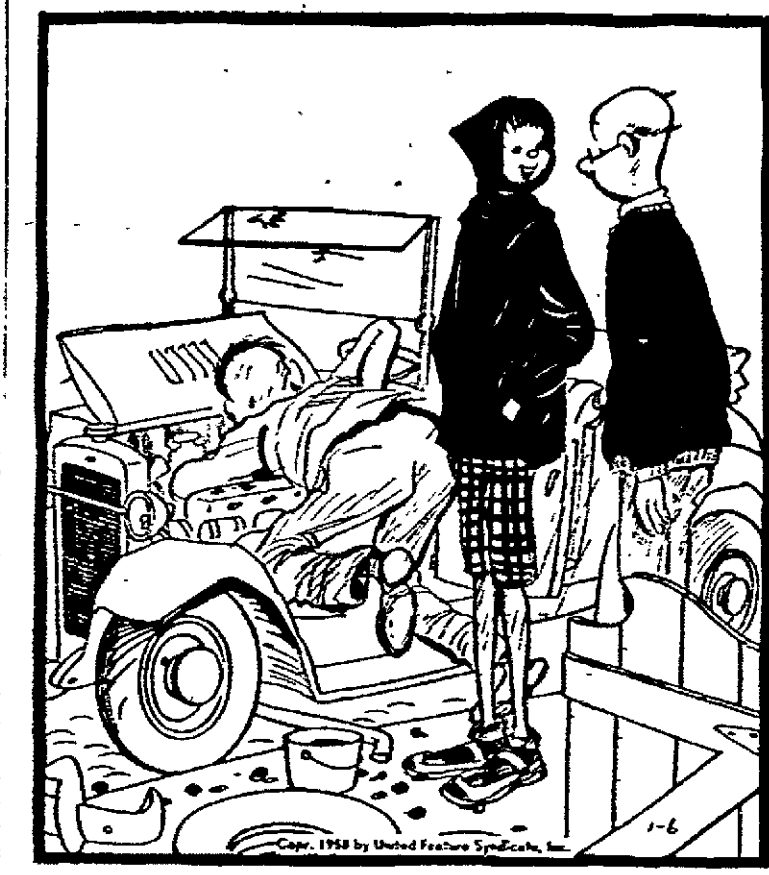

Kimberly — Jerome Gaffney rolled a 243 game and 636 series to post the top scores in the Kimberly Recreation association couples bowling league at Van's alleys.

Gaffney had a 213 singleton in addition to the other high game. Both scores were two of the best recorded in the league this season.

The Gaffney team has a half game lead on first place in the league with the Eckhoff squad second.

Crooks 'Can' Victim To Obtain His Money

New York — Two men came up behind William Thomas, superintendent of a Manhattan building, at the end of his rent collection tour, dropped an ash-can over his head, went through his pockets and got away with $200 in small checks.

St. Therese 5 Wins Kimberly Meet Crown

Appleton Team Beats New Holstein 60-39 For Title, Holy Name Cops Consolation

Kimberly — St. Therese, Appleton won the championship of the Holy Name invitational holiday basketball tournament by whipping Holy Rosary of New Holstein, 60 to 39 Sunday afternoon here.

Host Holy Name copped the consolation crown with a 30 to 24 victory over St. Patrick's of Menasha.

St. Therese moved into the tournament finals with a 50 to 24 victory over St. Patrick's Saturday night while Holy Rosary upset Holy Name 31 to 30 in a thriller.

St. Therese was never headed as they battled Holy Rosary to a close 13 to 12 lead at the end of the first period and then forged out in front to stay. Paul Zeegers and Joe Nussbaum supplied the scoring punch that sent the champions into the comfortable 35 to 21 lead at the half.

In the third period the winners scored 13 more points while Holy Rosary counted only eight to fall behind 48 to 29. St. Therese reserves saw a lot of action in the final frame as the outcome was never in doubt.

Scores 19 Points

A sharp shooting guard and tall center kept Holy Rosary in the scoring column. Guard Vernon Schmitz had eight field goals and a free throw for 17 points while center Vern Bonlander had eight buckets and three charity tosses for 19 markers, high in the game.

Holy Name took an 11 to 5 lead over St. Patrick's in the initial period and had the game on ice most of the way despite the fact that they did not score a point in the fourth quarter. At halftime the score was 19 to 13 with Kimberly out in front and at the end of the third period the count was 30 to 15. In the final six minutes St. Pat's had nine points while the Papermaker reserves failed to dent the scoring column.

Bob Laus was the high scorer for the game as he led St. Pat's with 11 points, seven on free throws. Ricky Polman was high for Holy Name with eight points and Tom Roovers had seven.

All Tourney Team

Awards were presented after the meet to the first, second and third place teams. An all tournament team was selected including three players from St. Therese, two from Holy Name and one from Holy Rosary and one each from St. Pat's. Sacred

Annie Kersten Slams 253 in Women's League

Kaukauna — Annie Kersten slammed a 253 singleton and a 529 series to walk off with individual honors in the Thursday Night Women's league at S and B alleys. Her top game is the high single game for women competing in Kaukauna leagues this season.

Team honors went to Farrell's tavern with an 885 game and a 2,395 series. Wiggle's foods won three games from Schouten's to hold the league lead with 32 wins and 13 defeats.

Other high individual series were posted by Jean Drace, 195, 494; Alice Berg, 189, 487; Virginia Grebe, 176, 480; Dorothy Lettau, 182, 476; Marie Wenzel, 187 and Anna Neiling, 176.

City Schools Resume Classes After Holidays

Kaukauna — All city schools resumed normal class schedules this morning after a 2-week vacation over the holidays. Adult students in the shop courses at the Kaukauna Vocational school also will start classes tonight.

The recreation department, with limited cooperation from the weather, managed to schedule many special events during the vacation period to help keep youngsters busy. After several delays on the ice rinks, they were finally completed last week giving children the opportunity for at least a full week of skating.

The weatherman brought a snow shortly after Christmas which also enabled youngsters to do sledding and tobogganing on local slopes. Two teenage dances were held by the recreation department and a toboggan party held, all of which were well attended, according to Robert Vanevenhoven, recreation director.

The final winter recreational event will be the annual ice carnival to be held Sunday on the library grounds ice rink. The event will be open to students from 8 to 18 years of age.

Biggest Non-Atomic Explosion in History Set Off in Utah

Little Valley, Utah — A heavy earth-moving equipment began chewing today at the side of a cliff leveled by the biggest non-atomic explosion in history.

While teams of seismologists listened with delicate instruments, 2,138,000 pounds of dynamite and nitrate fertilizer were set off yesterday at 10 a.m. to get material for a causeway being built across Great Salt Lake.

Engineers figured the blast would loosen 3,600,000 cubic yards of dirt and rock, which will be carried by big barges and dumped into the water as the foundation for the causeway.

The causeway will replace 12 miles of wooden trestle on the Southern Pacific Railway's Lucin cutoff across the lake. The $49 million job, being handled by Morrison-Knudsen Construction Co., is about half finished.

ment which would take away some of the power of the joint chiefs of staff and lodge it in one single commander."

Kefauver said Gavin's testimony pointed out a need for overhauling the present military setup.

"There are two fundamental things that must be corrected," Kefauver said.

"The first thing is that there is now no system in the Pentagon of getting any decision made. The second thing is that those who eventually make a decision should not be special pleaders for any particular cause."

May Reconsider Gavin, a decorated veteran of paratroop combat in World War II, indicated he might reconsider his retirement decision under certain circumstances.

"That's up to Secretary Brucker," Gavin said, adding that he had set certain conditions for remaining at his post. The general declined to specify what actions he wanted taken.

Gavin reportedly has felt the army could have developed an intercontinental ballistic missile before now, if it had been permitted to do so. The ICBM, with a planned range of 5,000 miles, is under air force jurisdiction.

The army's research chief also was said to believe the army could have put a satellite into orbit with its Jupiter-C rocket. The army only recently was ordered to prepare to launch a satellite with the Jupiter-C. This came after failure of the first test launching effort by the navy-directed Vanguard satellite project.

Brucker said he had "tried to dissuade" Gavin from retiring. The army secretary pledged 100 per cent backing for Gavin, whom he described as "one of the best officers we have."

The army said Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the army chief of staff, had tried for two weeks to get Gavin to change his mind, but that Taylor "became reluctantly convinced of the finality of Gen. Gavin's decision."

square were blocked off at one point following reports of gas odors.

William Rossiter of the state fire marshal's office said the blasts were caused by failure of a regulating valve, which rushed gas under high pressure into lines equipped for low pressure loads. Explosions occurred where gas seeped through weak points in the lines.

200 Return Home

Some 200 persons evacuated from their homes in the immediate danger area returned home later.

More than 200 firemen from Madison's eight companies battled the fires. Three companies extinguished the fire at the Hanson Auto Body Co., where one explosion and fire occurred, and then sped to the Bassett street area where the McGraith home was located.

Fire Chief Edward J. Page, who lives only two blocks from the Bassett block had just gone to bed when he heard the blasts.

"I jumped out of bed and so help me, the flames were so bright you could read a newspaper in my dining room with-out a light on," he said.

"No matter where you looked there was fire. Flames were shooting 100 feet into the air and sparks and debris were carrying all the way over the next block."

Chief Page said damage probably would total about half a million dollars. Earlier estimates were that it would be nearly twice that amount.

Gas explosions in the honey-combed areas under the streets around the Bassett area ripped pavement and flames shot upward. Firemen kept the flames contained within the square block and gradually worked it down. It took 15 hours to complete the job.

Destroyed were a body shop; the Hyland-Hall building occupied by heating contractors and an electric company; a drug store; a grocery store; a three-story brick building containing University of Wisconsin student rooms and apartments and upholstery and furniture firms; and two single-family dwellings including the McGraiths.

Study Group Urges Big Changes in U. S. Defense

and training men and procuring and distributing equipment and supplies.

Gaither Report Secret

Even more startling to the observers of military tradition was the group's proposal that all officers above one-star rank cease to be identified with an individual service, becoming officers "of the armed forces of the United States."

This non-governmental assessment of what's wrong with defense, issued last night in a 15,000-word report, became available to the public while the White House kept secret the report of its own presidentially picked Gaither committee.

The 21-man panel, headed by Nelson A. Rockefeller, included scientists, former diplomats, former defense officials and military officers, industrialists, atomic experts, educators, publishers and a labor union representative.

Other panels financed by the fund are making studies of other subjects, including foreign economic policy, domestic economic objectives, and education and manpower.

The Rockefeller study group says that perhaps the most difficult thing for this nation to work closely with other countries in meeting joint security requirements, must help re-united technology of unprecendented equip allied forces and "must power and destructiveness has pool with our allies in NATO scientific and technical information."

Among other things, the panel said, this nation must provide NATO allies "with nuclear weapons and delivery systems."

The group agrees that the changes needed in defense, especially the acceleration of weapon production for all the services, will be expensive — perhaps requiring "successive additions on the order of $3 billion each year for the next several fiscal years." The present defense spending budget is estimated at about $38.1 billion; that for next year at about $40 billion.

But, the group says at one point of their report, "we believe that the security of the United States transcends normal budgetary considerations and that the national economy can afford the necessary measures."

Weapons Vital Now

Massive production of quantities of weapons after a war starts, as done in the past, no longer is possible today, the group contends. It says any war will be fought with weapons-in-being, and the weapons must be produced now.

The report says the United States does have some military advantages over Russia now — a superior industrial base and production know-how; a system of alliances superior to those of Russia because they are based on free association instead of the method of "forced satellites"; superior operational experience in long-range bombers; "superior and more flexible naval power especially by surface naval power."

But there are disadvantages, the report notes, that the United States is vulnerable to nuclear attack, and Mrs. Conrad Olson, died in a hospital en route to a hospital street west of Milwaukee Sunday when he was struck and killed by an auto. The driver is vulnerable to nuclear attack, told Brookfield police he couldn't halt on the slippery road to avoid the pedestrian.

The report concludes that the casualties in such attack might be between 10 and 15 million dead; between 15 and 20 million injured; and between 25 and 35 million caught in radioactive fallout.

To help reduce the possible toll, the group said "civil defense must be part of our overall strategic posture" with a program including warning systems and fallout shelters.

Claims Recovery of $183,525 in Back Pay For Wisconsin Workers

Milwaukee — The department of labor said here Saturday its investigators recovered $183,525 in back pay for Wisconsin workers in 1957.

Duane A. Wendele, regional director of the department's wage and hour division, said the funds for back wages came for employers who had failed to comply with federal laws pertaining to minimum wages and overtime premium pay.

Wendele said the payments represented violations affecting 1,558 workers in 397 Wisconsin non-agricultural plants.

Woman, 106, Complains About Clothing Styles

Cincinnati — Mrs. Ellen Doyle, a spry, white-haired woman in nearby Norwood who will be 106 years old today, has a complaint: Modern women.

"They hardly wear any clothes," she said in her Irish brogue. "I see them 'parading' by in those short pants and I tell them, 'you're a lovely girl. Now go put some clothes on.'" died in an Oconto hospital Saturday night, a few hours after his auto and a Milwaukee Road train met at a town road crossing about three miles north of Lena.

Harlan E. "Nerdahl" 24, Madison motorist, was injured fatally early Saturday when his auto overturned on Highway 14 west of Middleton in Dane county.

Four Britons Fly Across South Pole In Light Plane

Auckland, New Zealand — Four British airmen made history today by flying across Antarctica via the South Pole in a small, slow single-engine plane.

They flew the aircraft, a Royal air force Otter, 1,600 miles from South Ice, the British base near the Weddell sea, to Scott base on the other side of Antarctica. The plane has a top speed of 160 miles an hour.

It took them just under 21 hours to make the flight never accomplished before by a small plane.

The plane, piloted by Squadron Leader John Lewis, passed over the U.S. base at the South Pole at 2,000 feet, then set course for Scott base.

On an earlier attempt several days ago the Otter was forced to turn back because of icing and turbulent clouds. Most of today's flight was made in bright, clear weather.

In London, headquarters of the British Trans-Antarctic expedition got the news of the historic flight in a cable from Lewis.

"Never before has a single-engine plane flown across the continent," said a headquarters spokesman. "We are all delighted."

CONSTIPATED? New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloot or gripe

Most constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that loses so much moisture that its contents become so dry they block the bowel; so shrunken they fail to stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to S-T-A-B-L-E COLON to action; to a normal urge to purge. And of all laxatives, only new COLONAX, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so gentle it has been hospital proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy. Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAX neither gags, bloats nor grips; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions. It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAX exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight. Get COLONAX, today! Only 98¢ for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

Canadian Players To Present Stark Tragedy of 'Othello'

One of the most celebrated dramatic tragedies of all time, Shakespeare's "Othello" will come to the stage of Lawrence Memorial chapel at 8:30 Thursday evening.

The second offering on the current Lawrence community artist series will be enacted by the Canadian Players of Stratford, Ontario, who in four years have won world renown for their summer festivals.

In choosing "Othello" for the present season, Director Douglas Campbell turns the spotlight on problems that are as old as recorded history.

Plot Sketched
The players' management sketches the story in these words: "Within the first few minutes of the play the background of the tragedy is painted in vivid, clear colors. Othello is a Moor and a most able soldier in the service of the Republic of Venice. His lieutenant, Iago, is consumed with jealousy of his commander. Othello's secret marriage to Desdemona, daughter of a Venetian senator, is discovered and the senator is horror-stricken. The Duke of Venice commands Othello to go immediately to the defense of the Island of Cyprus, which is being threatened by the Turks.

"With the same problems confronting the world today, one is reminded of Shakespeare's genius. His plays are timeless. The plot which Shakespeare weaves round the towering figure of Othello is as up-to-date now as it was when the play was performed in front of Queen Elizabeth I in 1602."

Simple Staging
The Canadian Players do not clutter the stage with elaborate sets or properties. They continue their tradition of relying on the ability of the actor to take the play to the audience and make it live. Colorful costumes emphasize the fast moving and bloody age in which the play was written.

The Canadian Players' style has elicited highest praise from the critics. Walter Kerr, writing in the New York Herald Tribune, said, "They are certainly setting a high standard for the rest of the continent to shoot at," while Tania Long of the New York Times observed, "Their acting ability is leaving viewers breathless and excited, and distinctive method of play presentation is giving new meaning to written dialogue."

Leading roles in the tragedy are taken by Tony van Bridge as Othello, Dawn Greenhalgh as Desdemona, and Max Helpmann as Iago. All have had wide theatrical experience throughout the British Empire. Miss Greenhalgh was born in China, and spent the years of World War II in a Japanese prison camp. Helpmann is Australian.

Tickets for the drama are now at Bellings. Chaminade will resume concert rehearsals at 7:30 Tuesday night at Morgan school. Prior Wednesday afternoon at the to the session, board members will meet to discuss plans for the March 15 spring concert.

'58 Parade Harks Back to Gay Flapper But Manages to Avoid Frightful Features of '20's

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

New York—P—American women may as well accept the idea that we are entering a second flapper age in 1958.

From chemise dresses to short hairdos, fashion harks back 30 years, to the period of feminine revolt when women threw away their girdles, shortened their skirts, rolled their stockings and danced the Charleston.

That was the era generally considered to have ushered in the most unflattering fashions in history—the era of the flat chest and the boyish bob, of exposed knees and belts around the hips. It was the time when women were demonstrating their freedom from traditional taboos, when they talked of free verse and free love, when they demanded equality and the right to vote.

The fashions of spring, 1958, as unveiled today by New York designers at the opening of a week of advance showings for the nation's fashion press, hark back to the sack silhouette and the shorter hair of the 1920's but they managed to avoid some of the more narrow features of that earlier mode. For instance, it no longer is necessary to appear flat-chested in order to be in style. The new versions of the chemise make due allowance for feminine curves, and are carefully shaped to provide normal bust room. Skirts are only slightly shorter, and no knobby knees need be exposed. Girdles and bras are still advisable for wear with the new dresses, which must fit perfectly in order to look their best. The slim neckline is important, and foundation garments are designed with this in mind.

Young Like Chanel After the first shock, women are discovering that the 1958 version of the chemise can be distinctly flattering, if correctly fitted and designed. Though the silhouette ignores the waistline, it accentuates graceful curves elsewhere, directs attention to neckline and hemline and dramatizes beautiful fabrics and workmanship.

Suits for the 1958 Easter parade will be smart, wearable and varied. The most popular silhouette features the short, unfitted jacket, just reaching the hipbone, with slim skirt and overblouse the same length as the jacket, often of fabric to match the lining.

There also are brief jackets, ending at the waistline, and Library.

bloused jackets, usually with back fullness drawn into a snug line at the hips. The Chanel suit, with box jacket and pleated skirt, also is important in the spring lineup, particularly favored by the young.

Navy Color Choice Fabrics are more elegant than in many years, with beautiful, chiffon-weight woollens in the ascendancy, many textured silks being shown in suits and costumes, and a number of blends with new talents, enabling garments to shed wrinkles and soil and even to be dunked in the washing machine.

As usual, navy is the first color choice for spring suits and coats, with lighter grays and beiges also important. Vivid colors are seen in silk print dresses and costumes and in cocktail and evening gowns.

A favorite outfit for spring will be the straight chemise dress and matching jacket or full-length coat, shown in all fabrics and many colors. White accents at the neckline are numerous, and hemlines often are dramatized by slits or flounces.

There are some fitted, full-skirted dresses in the after-5 fashions, but even for formal wear slender lines look newest, and smart women will be choosing draped chiffon sheaths for evening, in black or high colors, short or long.

Board to Meet

The Appleton Memorial Hospital auxiliary board will begin its activities for 1958 with a meeting at 9 o'clock Wednesday, morning at the Appleton Public Library.

United States Fashion Artists have taken a cue from the Parisian fall style showings and have adopted the "sack" shape to the American figure. Among dresses in New York spring collections is this evening gown, left, by Christian Dior, which has kept the fitted top. In taffeta, the frock has a high neckline in front and dips to a low waistline V in the back. Dress, shown right, is belted at the front only for compromise looseness. It is fashioned in beige cotton jersey from the spring-summer collection by Claire McCardell. (AP Wirephotos)

Beauty Make the Most Of Beauty Aids

By Marian Matthews

Take care of your toiletries and beauty products so that they give you the full benefit of their powers. Get into the habit of reading directions and following them to the letter too—you'll find this eliminates waste.

Don't waste your creams. Use just the amount suggested—more than this cannot improve the results for which a product is intended.

Be careful not to mess up, creams with traces of make-up or grime. Learn just how much you need and take just that amount so that you do not have to dip fingers in after using them to massage cream into skin. If you need more cream, wipe fingers clean with tissue first. Always replace jar or lotion bottle top securely.

Don't let air or heat spoil the contents. When you cream your face a second time for cleansing as some girls do, you might leave on the film of the second application to let it soften skin as well as lubricate it. Of course, if you use a very special cream after cleansing, then this is not a substitute treatment. It is nice though if skin is average, slightly dry or has been exposed to heat or cold.

Be watchful of cosmetics. Use lotion make-up as directed by dotting it on cheeks, forehead and chin and then spreading with fingertips. Use lipstick down to the last bit by applying it with a brush. Take care of mascara brushes by rinsing always after using.

Don't let your perfume and colognes sit in sunshine or close to heat. This can alter the fragrance.

Wash hairnets, combs and brushes regularly to give you longer and more clinical type service.

R.O.A.L. to Complete Military Ball Plans

In Good Taste Ask Present Doctor for Referral

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I am moving to a suburb on the outskirts of this town. I am very happy with my present doctor but am thinking of changing to someone nearer who could come to my house more quickly in an emergency. Would it be ethical for me to explain the situation to my present doctor and ask for my children's medical records so that my new doctor would have complete information on file?

Answer: It is more or less expected, therefore ethical, that you explain to your present doctor why you feel it necessary to make a change, and either ask him for the name of a pediatrician in your new neighborhood or at least for his opinion of the person you have more or less chosen. Having done this you may then ask if he would be kind enough to send the children's records to the new doctor.

Kaukauna Couple Tells Engagement Of Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zuelzke, 120 E. Tobacco street, Kaukauna, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Lt. John F. Hilgenberg, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hilgenberg, Sr., 165 Raught street, Kaukauna.

Miss Zuelzke is a graduate of Kaukauna High school and Wisconsin State college, Oshkosh, and now is teaching at Wau-pun. Her fiancé is a Kaukauna High school graduate and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He is stationed with the United States air force at Reese air force base, Texas.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Leland Zehren Claims Bride, Patricia Van Ark

Leland Zehren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zehren, 1520 S. Victor street, claimed Miss Patricia Van Ark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antone Van Ark, Green Bay, as his bride in a 3 o'clock nuptial ceremony Saturday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran church.

The Rev. I. B. Kindem performed the single ring rite and the couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Zehren, Appleton, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

After the wedding, a supper was held for immediate family members at the Irvin Zehren home, where the newlyweds later greeted friends and relatives at an evening reception. Mr. Zehren and his bride will make their home in Appleton after they return from a 1-week honeymoon in northern Wisconsin. The bridegroom is engaged in electrical work with his brother.

Comedian Harry Moore Arrested After Wife Says He Shot at Her

Los Angeles —P— Comedian Harry R. Moore, who plays the role of Kingfish in the Amos and Andy television show, was arrested last night after his wife reported that he fired a shot at her, police said.

Police said Mrs. Vivian J. Moore, 39, told them her husband fired and missed during an argument over disappearance of a beef roast from their refrigerator.

Moore, who told police his age was "three score and 10," was booked on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

Moore is identified as Tim Moore in film credits for the Amos and Andy show.

Case Workers Vote Against Authorizing Union to Call Strike

Racine —P— Workers at the J. I. Case company voted Sunday against authorizing union leaders to call a strike to back up demands for a new contract.

Sam Rizzo, business agent for United Auto Workers Local 180, said the workers' vote "was about half and half."

A two-thirds vote was required to authorize Local 180 leaders to call a strike at any time they deem it necessary to back up bargaining demands.

Participating in the balloting were about 900 of the 1,300 Case production and maintenance workers eligible to vote.

The union's old agreement with Case expired Dec. 1. Bargaining was scheduled to resume at 4 p.m. today.

Last week Rizzo said the union was seeking a wage boost of 33 cents an hour, plus an improved factor based on cost of living.

Rizzo also said the union asked for "greatly improved hospital and medical insurance."

Woman Nominates Husband as First Satellite Passenger

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: You do not deal in scientific problems. I know. But I'm interested in learning if the United States Missile Department has asked for volunteers to go up in our first satellite. I would like to nominate my husband.

He is 38 years of age and has not been asked to go up in a satellite. Perhaps he'd fit in better on another planet. Or maybe there is someone on the moon he can get along with.

My husband thinks women were made to wait on men and give them pleasure. Children, to him are noisy brats who should be clapped down the moment they show any spirit. Relatives are all insane. A man's salary is his alone, to spend as he sees fit. Everyone is crooked and out to "get" him. In short, he thinks the world is no darned good.

If the government will take him, I'd be glad to let him go.—MRS. G.L.

Dear Mrs. G. L.: Thanks for your remarkable patriotism. Your husband sounds as if he's already out of this world.

Any guy who has so many cockeyed notions in one head (he DOES have one head, doesn't he?) is sick sick sick. I don't think he could stand the trip. And Dear Readers, if the "Spouse - Nick" ever becomes a reality, remember you read it here FIRST!

DEAR ANN: Maybe you'll tell me I'm immature. At any rate, I'm going to tap you for some advice and hope you'll deliver.

I don't like fat women—never could stand 'em. Maybe it all goes back to my maiden aunt who weighed 230 pounds and bossed the whole family. She was my mother's older sister and everyone feared her sharp tongue and ugly disposition.

I've met a girl who is intelligent, charming AND interested. She's not exactly fat, but very large boned, and if she turns out like her mother, she'll be about the size of my miserable aunt. Whenever I find myself thinking seriously of her, the comparison always looms up. If you've got any ideas on this subject I'd like to hear them.—RALPH

Remember, Ralph, when you ask for this girl's hand, you have to take the rest of her, too. You aren't childish; you're wise to look at a girl in terms of what she may be 10 years from today. If more people viewed marriage with an eye to the future, the divorce courts wouldn't be doing such a land-office business.

If you habitually identify this girl with your miserable aunt (for whatever reason) it could ruin the marriage. Some men don't care if their wives look like fire hydrants, they love 'em madly—and this is fine. But since your girl seems to be a reminder of someone you detest, it could be a risky marriage through no fault of HERS, but rather yours.

DEAR ANN: I was given the honor to speak for our troubled group of four. We all have the same problem and hope you can help us.

A certain guy in our crowd is a nice fellow but he has one fault. He borrows small amounts of money and forgets to pay us back. We've all been nipped at one time or another. It's embarrassing to ask this mooch to return the money he borrowed six months ago.

Some of us think we should ask his parents to square the debts. They are not poor people. In fact, far from it. What do you say?—THE SUCKERS

Why not consider yourselves "The Former Suckers" and let it go at that? Sometimes it takes a lesson to learn, and you've had it. Going to his parents is out. Why bother them? They didn't borrow the money. Simply tell the dead-beat that his credit rating has hit bottom, and from now on the answer is no.

Edward Pfefferle Named Head of Campaign Section

Edward S. Pfefferle, treasurer and sales manager of Elm Tree bakery, has been named advanced gifts chairman for the Red Cross drive. The announcement was made by Edward Adam, general chairman.

Pfefferle

The division's goal has been set at $11,700, or $300 more than last year, while the agency's over-all quota has been announced at $33,055.

Pfefferle said first letters in the advanced gifts division already have been sent out and second letters will go out this month. General solicitations in the annual campaign will be in March.

Many Wood Chips Fashion Inlaid Coffee Table Tops

Pueblo, Colo. — Earl Weitenhausen worked for four years on five coffee tables in his spare moments—and kept statistics on them. He figured he used 3,906 separate pieces of wood for the inlaid tops after collecting these pieces for two years at a lumber company where he works as a cabinet maker.

Young People Participating in a day of recollection Sunday at St. Mary Catholic church greeted the Rev. Stanley Kusman, Kirkwood, Mo., before the altar set up in the school gymnasium. About 750 Catholic students attending public high schools took part. Shown with the priest, from left, are Sharon Tiede, Judi Schuldes, Peter Hoefel and Dennis Fuerst. (Post-Crescent Photo)

The Family Council

16-Year-Old Needs Guidance, Not Just Harsh Punishment

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. J.B. — Adele's punishment is too harsh.

Mr. J.B. — We've got to lay down the law now.

Mrs. J.B. — My 16-year-old daughter recently confessed to me that she was involved in intimacies with a boy at her high school. She was afraid she was pregnant and that's why she told me, but it turned out that she was mistaken.

Adele has sworn that such a thing will never happen again. She says she has learned her lesson. The poor girl was so terrified that she lost 15 pounds and became almost a nervous wreck.

Right now Adele says she doesn't want to go near another boy. She didn't even argue with her father when he said she would not be permitted to go on dates until she gets out of high school. But I am afraid the punishment is too harsh.

Mr. J.B. — What kind of punishment can be too harsh for a thing like that. How can you trust a girl who gets into that kind of trouble at her age? I'd never trust her again under any circumstances, but at least we can hedge her in until she gets out of high school. After that, I guess we'll just have to hope for the best—and keep our fingers crossed.

The way I see it, Adele has the fear of God in her now, but desire to do right through a punishment and what is too easy on Adele and that's why this happened.

My wife has always been too easy on Adele and that's why this happened.

The Council: The question of punishment and what is too easy or too harsh puts the emphasis in the wrong place.

The real problem here is how to guide Adele toward a better life.

Fear is not enough to keep Adele on the right track moral—Adele's problems are probably or to lead her toward a happy life. Adele needs religious and personal guidance. She should enlist help from their needs to fully understand why clergyman and possibly a social worker connected with a She needs to find a positive family agency.

She needs to find a positive family agency.

This Week's Books

New Anthologies Range From Birds to Theater

Several anthologies covering fields of interest from bird watching to drama have been added this week to the Appleton public library. All are on display now and will be released for circulation Friday (Jan. 10).

Among the collections are "Ten Talents in the American Theater" edited by David Stevens; "Bird Watcher's Anthology" by Roger Tory Peterson; "The Saturday Review Treasury," a compilation of articles which first appeared in the magazine; and "Harvest of American Cooking" by Mary Margaret McBride, a survey of favorite U.S. recipes.

Other non-fiction additions are "Middle of the Night" by Paddy Chayefsky, a play; "The Community Theatre" by John Young, how to organize and run a local drama group; "How to Predict What People Will Buy" by Louis Cheskin, a study in market research; "The Good Housekeeping Book of Baby and Child Care" by Emmett Holt, hints for new mothers.

Proxmire Promises Introduction of Complete Farm Bill

Washington — Sen. William Proxmire said today he will introduce a comprehensive farm bill as soon as congress reconvenes Tuesday.

He said the bill will restore farmers' returns to the full parity levels that prevailed in 1952, with little or no requirements for subsidies to farmers.

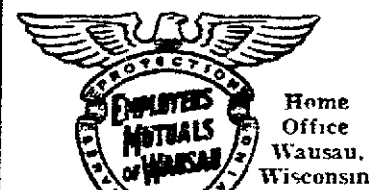

The bill, he said, would establish a national farm income stabilization board which would include a strong representation of actual farmers.

Stand by Unions Called 'Freakish'

Pegler Finds Statements of Leaders Contradiction of Fact

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—A great political freak has occurred before our very eyes.

Pegler

judged the very basis of unionism. They have; but they haven't.

According to the book, a worker is scornfully forbidden to squal on racketeers or communists within his union's executive gang until he has "exhausted all remedies" within the union itself. This means that the individual victim had no assured remedy at any time within his life. His case could drag on for 30 years. To "exhaust all remedies" he must expose himself to unemployment, ostracism and other terrible, non-physical forms of persecution by the bosses of his local and their henchmen, all paid out of his local's treasury by the sweat of the victim himself. He also has a good chance of having a leg broken or his head pored in.

Poor Idealist

In Chicago, a poor fool of an idealist, a laborer named William Bruce Ziegler, of the Operating Engineers' union, was threatened at dusk on La Salle street for reporting to Arthur G. Madden, the agent in charge of internal revenue, and Clarence Converse, a special agent, concerning the income of William E. Maloney, who is still president of this hideous racket. Capt. Dan Gilbert, then chief of the police detail of the state's attorney's office, told me the names of the racketeers who "exhausted" all the so-called remedies within the union. A and Converse also agreed on certain information.

But Ziegler was dead, leaving 10 children, and the American Federation of Labor never lifted a finger to drive the murderers to the electric chair, let alone William Green. Meany's predcessor as president of the AF of L, was a despicable faker, always on the side of the crook as against the helpless worker. (Reuther and Carey would not count in this particular case because their branch of the racket, the CIO, at that time, was separate from the AF of L. However, there were many killings in CIO union insurrections during those years including, it is noted with pleasure, the eradication of two pickets by two Negro laborers who worked to shoot their way to death, if necessary, and did. Both killers went free, too.)

Classical Case

The Ziegler case is a classical case only because I pounced on it at the time and hammered away at it. There are many others more or less similar. So a whole generation, as it were, of American workers, was dragged into the AF of L and CIO rackets subject to robbery and persecution with the knowledge of Bill Green and his executive council. Green frequently spat in the public's eye with defiant declarations that unions were a law unto themselves until such time as they condescended to yield jurisdiction local and their henchmen, all paid out of his local's treasury by the sweat of the victim himself. He also has a good chance of having a leg broken or his head pored in.

Green had been a part-time pulp-flogger in his youth and bore himself with a quack ministerial air. His original trade was coal mining, but he was thrown out of the United Mine Workers by John L. Lewis, who detested him as a yellow slob, and so wheedled a card in the Musicians' union from Jimmy Piccirilli because he had played chords on the organ in a slab-sided church in the Pennsylvania hills.

Could Starve

It is still the law that no union man or woman may invoke the public law for protection against any outrage by any attorney's office, told me the names of the racketeers who "exhausted" all the so-called remedies within the union. A and Converse also agreed on certain information.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain, Stops Itching as it Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H. At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers union, presented these studies as he was interviewed during and after a television program. Accidental Deaths Show Slight Decrease in '57

First Time in Three Years Drop Is Noted, Insurance Figures Indicate

New York, N.Y. — Deaths from accidents in the United States totaled close to 94,000 in 1957, statisticians of a national life insurance company estimate.

This is approximately 1,000 less than in 1956. It was the first time in three years that the number of fatal injuries showed a reduction, the total having increased from 90,000 in 1954, to nearly 93,500 in 1955, and further to 95,000 in 1956.

Provisional figures indicate the accident death rate in 1957 is 55 per 100,000 population, or about on the level of the all-time low recorded in 1954. Motor vehicle accidents accounted for approximately 38,500 fatalities in 1957, which again is about 1,000 below the preceding year's toll, although still one of the highest on record.

Motor vehicles continue to be the leading cause of fatal injuries by a considerable margin, accounting for about two-fifths of all accidental deaths.

The statisticians see encouraging data for 1957 which indicate never work again in the United States. If the complaint fails, the sucker has committed the unpardonable sin. And the Judges who sit on his case all are professional union bosses who, like Meany, Reuther and Carey, have never done a tap of hard work in a quarter century.

When Harriman and Wagner, for the state and city of New York, exhort union victims to squal to public authority they are inviting the poor fools to commit economic suicide. However, they have the excuse that they probably do not know this, if that is of any comfort to a sap with a starving family on his hands. (Copyright, 1958)

Lewis Opposes Union Ouster

Declares AFL-CIO Hasn't the Power To Expel Members

Washington — John L. Lewis says the AFL-CIO hasn't the right to expel "hundreds of thousands of wage earners" because their union leaders are accused of corruption.

Lewis, whose United Mine Workers union is not part of the big labor federation, took issue with the AFL-CIO for oustering the teamsters and other unions on corruption grounds.

Appearing on a television program, Lewis said "I think expelling great unions with vast membership is merely shooting the dog to remove the tick. There is no police power invested in the AFL-CIO. . . . We have laws to deal with corruption."

The UMW chief said AFL-CIO President George Meany and Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, are "not proving to be a success" as leaders of the American labor movement.

Lewis termed Reuther "an earnest Marxist," but said he wouldn't go so far at present as to identify the UAW leader with communism. However, Lewis said he would not endorse claims that Reuther had been instrumental in ridding unionism of communist influences.

As for Meany, Lewis, called him "an honest plumber trying to eliminate sin in labor unions — which is not a function of the labor movement." Meany had no immediate

Sailor Says He Was Beaten for Saying a Prayer

Yokosuka, Japan — An 18-year-old American sailor today accused a marine guard of beating him up for saying a prayer in the brig at Sasebo naval base.

Sgt. Barbuti of Schenectady, N.Y., the accused guard, pleaded innocent before a general court-martial to 29 counts of cruelty and maltreatment toward prisoners.

Eight marine guards at the brig were convicted previously and six were acquitted on similar charges.

"Sgt. Barbuti was always hitting me," Fireman Carlos E. Vota of Americillo, Tex., testified. Vota spent seven days in the brig following his conviction for insubordination to a petty officer. He told the 8-man court: "They (Sgt. Barbuti and other brig wardens) made me hold a ruler with hands stretched out. I was so weakened by previous beatings that I closed my eyes and started crying."

"Sgt. Barbuti called me a religious S.O.B. and struck me with his fist in the stomach. . . . I almost passed out."

While Barbuti, a heavy set brown-haired marine of 23, sat impassively, Vota frequently pointed at him while describing beatings he said Barbuti gave him.

Aircraft Executive To Enter Priesthood Of Episcopal Church

Los Angeles — An aircraft executive will be ordained today to the priesthood of the Episcopal church but he will continue his business career.

Robert B. Watts, 36, of San Diego, vice president and general counsel for the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp., will be presented as a candidate for the priesthood by the Rev. Robert W. Wolterstorff, rector of St. James-by-the-Sea Episcopal church of San Diego. Watts has served there as assistant since he was ordained a deacon last year.

Watts said he will continue as the Rev. Mr. Wolterstorff's assistant and will remain as an executive of Convair and a director of General Dynamics Corp.

Bills Prepared To Block Cut In Dairy Parity

Congressmen Ready To Back Legislation Aimed at Benson

Washington — Members of congress from dairy states plan to introduce legislation Tuesday, when Congress reconvenes, to block the announced plan of Secretary of Agriculture Benson to drop dairy price support levels April 1.

There is no assurance, however, at this stage that the move will be successful. Even if congress should pass such a bill, it would face the possibility of a veto by President Eisenhower.

Benson announced Dec. 18 that he will cut the supports when the new dairy season open April 1 to the minimum allowable of 75 per cent of parity. Dairy price supports now range up to 83 per cent.

Sen. Humphrey, D-Minn., has drafted a bill to be co-sponsored by various other senators, designed to block Benson's move, and it would go further than just hold the present line. Instead of providing for a continuation of the 83 per cent of parity or $3.25 a hundred pounds for manufacturing milk now in effect, it would require a change in the parity formula itself which would have the effect of raising the support levels further.

Those who have agreed to co-sponsor the bill include Sens. Thye, R-Minn., Proxmire, D-Wis., Wiley, R-Wis., Langer, R-ND, Murray, D-Mont., and Neuberger, D-Ore. Others are expected to join in. Thye said he will also introduce a similar bill of his own.

One of the first hurdles the bill will face will be to have it considered by the senate agriculture committee. Chairman Ellender, D-La., said he does not want piecemeal legislation, such as the dairy bill, and wants a one package farm bill.

Altar Boy Starts $32,000 Fire in Milwaukee Church

Milwaukee — A 2-alarm fire, apparently started when an altar boy tossed matches into a waste pail, caused an estimated $32,000 damage to St. Mary Magdalen Catholic church Sunday.

Det. Lt. Rudolph Glaser said he was convinced the fire was accidental. The altar boy, he said, had served the 6 a.m. Mass and was using matches to remove some wax from a candle lighter. He tossed the hot matches into a bucket filled with paper and panicked when the paper burst into flames. The boy ran to his nearby home without telling anyone about it.

No one was injured in the fire which broke out shortly after the church had been cleared of parishioners who attended the Mass. The blaze was confined to the sanctuary but heavy smoke and water did some damage elsewhere in the brick building.

The Law and You

Defamatory Statements Could Bring Fine, Prison Sentence

If the movies are to be believed, the penalty for libel and slander in the old west was fice, and his opponents are to be meted out with a 6-shooter. And perhaps they are to be believed. A newspaper editor in Waco, Texas, was shot down on the street some 60 years ago for what he printed in his paper.

But the legal penalty for libel and slander, or "defamation" as the Wisconsin statute defines it, is a lawsuit for damages and possibly a fine or prison sentence. It is worth noting that defamation in Wisconsin is a felony punishable by a $1,000 fine, a year in prison or both.

Defamation means saying or publishing anything that exposes another person to hatred, contempt, ridicule, degradation, or disgrace in society or injury in his business or occupation.

Public Characters

That definition sounds pretty strict. It makes you wonder how politicians get by with half the things they say about each other. Fortunately the law holds that a political candidate change the application of the puts his character and reputa-

Town of Neenah Tax Bills Put Into Mail For $121,000 Payment

Levy to Include School Operations, Part of County Costs, Treasurer Says

Neenah — Town of Neenah tax bills have been mailed to residents seeking payment of $121,000 for school taxes, part of the county tax and special assessments. There were 1,204 tax bills mailed to 712 property owners.

Taxes will be received at the National Manufacturers bank every Friday during January and February, beginning Jan. 17. The collection hours will be from 10 o'clock to 12 noon, 1 o'clock to 2:30 in the afternoon and 5 o'clock to 7:30 in the evening.

Payments also may be made by mail by addressing them to Donald O. Reinhardt, town treasurer, route 1, Neenah.

Persons using the installment plan for payment must pay all of the personal property tax and half of the real estate tax by Jan. 31 to the town treasurer. The remaining half of the real estate tax is to be paid to the county treasurer by July 31.

Taxpayers paying in full have until Feb. 28 to make their tax payments to Reinhardt. Any real estate taxes not paid by Feb. 28 are turned over to the county treasurer as delinquent and a penalty is charged.

Reinhardt mentioned there is a great turnover of property owners and it is hard to keep the address file up-to-date. Anyone owning real estate or personal property located in the town of Neenah who does not receive a tax bill within the next several days should contact him.

School Taxes
The total being collected in school taxes comes to $95,580 for the four school districts. Gillingham joint district No. 1 has an assessed value of $140,900 in the township and is to pay a total levy of $1,789 at a rate of $12.70 per $1,000 of valuation.

New Home Permits Top January '57 Already

Sixth Issued Today; Only 4 Last Year, 8 in Record 1957

Neenah — With less than three business days in January completed, Neenah Building Inspector Carlton F. Williams has issued six permits for new homes. In the entire month of January, 1957, only four such permits were issued.

Neenah ended 1957 with 124

new homes authorized, which was 60 less than in the record year 1956. In January, 1956, eight new homes were authorized.

Two permits were issued this morning and one Friday.

Friday's permit went to Chauncey Hocking for a new home and attached garage on Chestnut street. The 48 by 62 foot one story frame structure will cost an estimated $18,500. It is being built by Leonard Larson, contractor.

Today a permit was issued to Douglas Kaufmann for a new home on Maple street which will cost an estimated $10,000. The one story frame building will measure 20 by 42 feet.

A permit also was issued today to Builders, Inc., for a new home on Campbell street with an estimated construction cost of $8,500. This one story frame home will measure about 27 by 43 feet.

The first three permits of the year were issued on Thursday.

Cars Damaged In Four Crashes Over Weekend

Slippery Highways Cited by Drivers as Accident Factors

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Car damage only resulted from four accidents in the county Saturday and Sunday. One accident resulted as the driver tried to stop to avoid an accident that had happened in front of him on Highway 41 at 9:23 Sunday night.

Charles R. Fox, 38, route 2, Weyauvega, said he was going south on Highway 41 in the town of Nekimi when he suddenly saw an accident ahead of him. In trying to stop, he skidded on the ice and slid off the road, striking a guard post and damaging his car.

Involved in the accident ahead of him were Chris A. Tessen, 32, Elmwood, Ill., and Stanley A. Howman, 43, Chicago, Ill. Both were going south and Tessen said a driver ahead of him began to skid so he began pumping his brakes in order to stop when his car was hit in the rear by the Howman car.

Cars driven by James E. Bunnell, 24, route 2, Shiocton, and James R. Hobart, 18, route 1, Neenah, were damaged in a line of traffic accident on Highway 47 at 6:27 Saturday night. Bunnell said he slowed down because a car ahead of him had also slowed down and his car was hit in the rear by the Hobart car.

Cars driven by Elaine Duchateau, 1749 N. Owaissa street, Appleton, and John L. Schedick, 2091 W. Pacific street, Appleton, were damaged when they collided in the Valley Fair Shopping center today reported the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O'Connell, route 1, Menasha.

St. Elizabeth hospital today announced the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Miller, 37 Mayer street, Menasha. St. Elizabeth hospital, Appleton, today reported the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O'Connell, route 1, Menasha.

Winchester School Opens to Students

Classrooms Ready but Work Remains on Kitchen, Multi-Purpose Room Floor

Winchester — When classes resumed today after the 2-week Christmas vacation recess, it was in a new school that the children entered. Although all of the work in the new building is not complete, the six classrooms were ready for occupancy this morning.

The new Winchester school replaces several of the 1-room buildings that had been serving the Winneconne community school district. The schools being replaced are Grand View, Royer, Larsen and Mikesville in the northern end of the district.

Mathison is being continued in use as a kindergarten for the northern area with one of its rooms being used for a classroom and the other as a playroom.

Supt. John McKenna said the multi-purpose room should be completed in several days, as

Rockets Nip 'Birds In Final 7 Seconds

Bylow's Basket Gives Neenah 55-54 Win at Janesville; Up Victory Chain to 9 Straight

Janesville — A basket by Pete Bylow with seven seconds remaining provided Neenah with the tying and winning points as it edged Janesville 55-54 to extend its winning Bylow Thomsen string to nine straight games here Saturday night.

The Rockets were trailing 53-50 with 45 seconds left to play but they got within one point as Dave Thomsen dropped in a jump shot. Morris Adams, sophomore center, made a free throw for Janesville for a 54-52 score and at the 23 second mark Thomsen added a free throw to make the score 54-53.

Intercept Pass
Then in a mad scramble at midcourt, the Rockets intercepted a Janesville pass and with just seven seconds left on the clock Bylow fired a long jump shot to give Neenah the win.

The score was tied at 10-all.

at the end of the first quarter, but paced by Fred Seggelink, who made 10 points. Neenah dunked 14 tallies in the second frame to 12 for Janesville and a 24-22 halftime lead for the Rockets.

Neenah came up with its best scoring output in the third, hitting 19 points, seven by Seggelink and four each by Thomsen and Marv Carlson, while Janesville picked up 14 points to trail 43-36 going into the hectic last session.

Bluebirds Lead
Paced by Dick Yates and Roger Sands, playing his first game after being sidelined with a football injury, the Bluebirds accumulated nine straight points in the fourth period to give Janesville its first lead (45-43) since early in the game.

The Birds held the upper hand until Neenah managed a tie at 50-all with two minutes left. Adams dropped in three straight free throws for 53-50 but in the final 45 seconds Neenah notched a 5-1 advantage.

The Rockets lost Seggelink on fouls with four minutes left to play in the final period. Before fouling out he accumulated 19 points, which gave him scoring honors. Thomsen, who took up the slack when Seggelink bowed out and made seven of his 15 points in the last quarter, was the runnerup scorer while Carlson was third with eight.

Yates Hits 22

Yates, a junior forward, paced Janesville with 22 points on 10 baskets and two free throws. Sands was next with eight points.

The Rockets had a 24-21 field goal advantage and made seven of 16 free throws to 12 of 22 for the Bluebirds.

Janesville, which now has seven straight losses, played without its top scorer Henry Schloemer, who had swollen glands, and another starter, Graham Buisler, was out with a bad ankle.

Establish 3 New Marks In Menasha Tourney

Koslowski Gets Perfect Score In Team Section

Menasha — Three new records (including a perfect 25 for 25 by Jerry Koslowski) were recorded in the third annual free throw shooting contest conducted Thursday and Friday by the Menasha Recreation department. Over 130 youngsters stepped to the line at Butte des Morts and Jefferson school gyms.

Koslowski, a member of the Menasha High school varsity team, rolled up his perfect score in the team division, bettering the 23 of 25 established by Ron Dibelius two years ago.

The Bluejay senior had to be perfect because Norb Koslowski, a member of the St. Mary's junior varsity, hit 24 of 25 for second place. A three way tie developed for third with Ken Koneczka, Bob Hodkiewicz and Gordy Selbach all making 23 of 25. Hodkiewicz won in the Friday playoff.

Jim Cronin, shooting in the eleventh and twelfth grade division, hit 21 for 25 to break a two year record of 20, formerly held by Al Wisneski. John Posolski, last year's winner, had to settle for third.

The third record was a 19 for 25 by fourth grader Bill Beisenstein. It bettered the previous best of 12 made by Michael Weinandt in 1955.

Besides Koslowski, the only 1956 winner to repeat was "Skip" Beisenstein, who captured the sixth grade section with 15 baskets.

Six ties were recorded and places decided in a shoot off Friday morning. Miniature wall plaques go to the top three finishers in each division. They will be mailed to the score in the team division, bettering the 23 of 25 established by Ron Dibelius two years ago.

Macs Post Big Field Goal Edge But Lose 73-72

Bow to Plymouth For Second Time; Massey Scores 20

Menasha — The Menasha Macs scored seven more field goals than Plymouth but were outgunned from the free throw line and dropped a 73-72 decision to the latter in an Eastern Wisconsin Amateur league game at the Butte des Morts gym Sunday afternoon.

The game opened second round play for both teams. Plymouth also defeated the Menashans in the first game of the initial half.

The visitors had a 16-10 advantage at the end of the first quarter but the Macs battled back and managed a 31-31 tie at halftime.

Menasha came up with 20 points in the third session, one more than its foes, to hold a narrow 51-50 lead going into the fourth quarter. But in the fatal fourth, Plymouth hit 23 points to 21 for the Macs.

The Macs collected 32 field goals to 25 for Plymouth but were called for 30 fouls, 14 more than the invaders, and the winners took advantage of their chances to sink 23 free throws.

Clem Massey, who recently left the Marquette squad, played his first game for the Macs and snared scoring honors with 20 points. Dick Rohe had 16 and Roy Kramer 14. Big Hank Schutte was the top Plymouth marksman with 23 points.

The Macs play at Brillion next Saturday night in their second start of the second round. No plans have been announced for the first round playoff in which the Macs, Plymouth and Kiel are involved.

The box score:

FIVE WORDS TO THE WISE

BY UPTON X. FURMAN
Chiropractor, Neenah

Five words to the wise are "Take Chiropractic spinal adjustment first." When Chiropractic first became known, it was only tried after everything else had failed. In forty-seven years it has built up a marvelous record of results in cases cases pronounced incurable.

No health method ever had a to other adjustment and that Chiropractic succeeded in the most tribute in the world to its sound scientific basis as a means of restoring the conditions of health. It is beyond the trial stage.

Chiropractic is not only successful with various kinds of pairs and aches, but this unique method of health has proved to be supremely successful in dealing with the so-called internal disorders of the stomach, intestine, liver, respiratory system and endocrine system.

Arriving this evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bylow, 120 Washington avenue, Neenah, will be Mr. and Mrs. Warren George and family, Anchorage, Alaska. Mrs. George is the daughter of the Neenah couple.

Mr. George has been employed by the government as an engineer in Alaska for the last 11 years.

Birthday Party

Menasha — Miss Kathleen Handler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Handler, route 2, Menasha, entertained 25 freshman classmates at Menasha High school at a party Saturday afternoon at the Menasha Memorial building.

The occasion was Miss Handler's fifteenth birthday.

Evening Guild Has Program for Year

Neenah — At a recent meeting of the executive committee, the Evening Guild of Emmanuel's Evangelical and Reformed church made program plans for the coming year.

At the group's Jan. 14 meeting, new members will be received and birthdays will be celebrated with refreshments. A Valentine box lunch supper and a Christian stewardship program will be held in February when the group also will observe World Day of Prayer.

A lenten quiet hour is scheduled for the March meeting and a thank offering and retreat will be held in April. Also planned for that month is a smorgasbord supper.

On the first Tuesday of May a mother and daughter luncheon is planned in addition to a reception for new members. June will see the guild participating in the congregational meeting of the church and also planning their picnic meeting.

A thank offering will be held in July and in August the group will have a Christian education program and visit the Elm Tree Baking company in Appleton. Guild members will elect officers and hold a potluck supper in September and a regional workshop is planned for October. At the October meeting members will dress in costume for the annual Halloween party.

A thank offering and hymn gathering service are planned for November and the group will conclude the year's program with a Christmas party in December.

Adult School Offers Course In Speaking

Seek Establishment Of Good Speech Habits With Practice

Neenah — A short course in public speaking offered this semester by the Neenah Vocational and Adult school was announced today. The 10-session course will begin Jan. 14, with Kenneth Anderson of the Neenah High school faculty as instructor.

This course will attempt to establish good speech in formal and informal patterns, free from fear of the audience, Anderson said. The "power" of speech will be encouraged to develop by giving every course member several opportunities to speak in front of the class.

The three basic aims of the course are to control stage fright, to be able to prepare speeches of different types and to deliver speeches effectively. Following each speech, friendly but frank comments will be offered by the instructor, along with suggestions for improvement. Later, fellow class members will also give their reactions to talks presented in the class sessions.

Some of the problems discussed in the course will include speaking without fear, the basic unit of a speech, analyzing the audience and the occasion, selecting a speech subject and a purpose, gathering material and organizing ideas, wording the speech, planning speeches for special occasions, developing the persuasive speech, presenting the speech effectively, and developing a speech personality.

Enrollments will be accepted through this week at the school. The class will be limited to 20 persons, however, to insure individual attention for each member.

3 Accidents In Menasha On Weekend

Menasha — Three accidents were reported in Menasha over the weekend. One of the drivers involved pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident and another pleaded innocent of operating his car on the left side of the road.

Larry W. Johnson, 19, 223 Van street, Neenah, pleaded guilty of leaving the scene of an accident and his case was taken under advisement by Menasha Police Justice Arthur Ales until 9:30 Wednesday morning.

Johnson's auto struck a bicycle ridden by Jeffery Block, 14, 332 Grandview avenue, at 11 o'clock Saturday night on Tayco street. The bicycle was damaged and Jeffery's glasses were broken.

Ronald N. La Count, 19, 745 Broad street, Menasha, pleaded innocent of operating on the left side of the road and his trial was set for 9:30 Friday morning by Ales.

LaCount's car and an auto driven by Lauren V. Grobe, 36, 139 N. Richmond street, Appleton, collided at the intersection of Water and Center streets at 2:50 Saturday afternoon.

A third accident was reported at 4:30 Saturday afternoon when cars driven by Carlton J. Weigand, 50, 905 Broad street, Menasha, and Carl A. Boness, 43, 334 Eighth street, Menasha, collided. Weigand's car was going south on Tayco street, and Boness' car north on Tayco street.

Winds and Vandals Caused considerable damage to seven fish shacks on Little Lake Butte des Morts in back of the Neenah-Menasha Sewage Disposal plant over the weekend. Three of the shacks were blown over by the wind while four others were broken into and ransacked. J. C. Welhouse, 920 N. Durkee street, Appleton, is shown above starting to repair his shack which was one of those damaged. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Over 1,900 Visit Play Centers in Holiday Season

Seven New Names Added to Roster Of Tourney Champs

Menasha — Over 1,900 Menasha youngsters visited the indoor playground centers here over the Christmas holidays, it was reported this morning by Jerry Smith, recreation director. The total of 1,968 was under last year's 2,254, when the three centers were open eight days. This year they were open for six and a half days. The centers were located at the Butte des Morts and Jefferson schools and the Memorial building.

Seven more names were added to the roster of Christmas tournament champions in events finished last week.

At Jefferson gym in the checker meet, Mike Vande Hey won the fourth grade and under division. Ken Ciske the fifth and sixth grade division and Tim Carew the seventh and eighth grade division.

Jefferson's table golf victor was Ken Ciske, the only double champion at Jefferson. Butte des Morts center were Paul Blohm in the fourth grade and under section, Dave Meier and Jim Poquette in the fifth and sixth grade, and Peter Sorenson in the seventh and eighth grade.

Blohm's record was five wins and two losses, Meier's and Poquette's a six and two mark, and Sorenson's a perfect four wins in as many starts.

Other winners in the table tennis and checker tournaments were Alice Kenney, Tony Weinandy, Pat Kenney, Tom Nyman, Paul Blohm, Beverly Finch and Marty Stahl. All the winners received certificates.

Supervising the centers were Leo Kenney, Ken Reinke, Miss D'etta Toschner and Miss Joan Tomarkin.

Kiwanians Attending Convention

Neenah — Harold Gray, Neenah Foundry company, and Adrian, Neenah Paper company, are in Milwaukee today attending the annual convention of Wisconsin-Upper Michigan Kiwanis clubs. Gray is the new president of the Neenah Kiwanis and Adrian is the new vice president. The officers will be formally installed at the Kiwanis meeting Wednesday noon at the Valley Inn.

The 1958 lieutenant governor William Griffith of Appleton, will open his official career by presiding at the installation ceremonies. Others to be installed as local officers are Harvey Dauffenbach, treasurer, Paul Dodge secretary, and Harmon McCarthy, Ivaux Andersen, Clark Harris and Arch Dixon, directors. Holdover directors are Gordon Sawyer, immediate past president, Bill Miller, and Dr. J. P. Canavan.

School and the fifth and sixth grades at Mathison. Serving as teachers for the grades are Mrs. Theda Eckstein for the kindergarten, Miss Mary Huzzar for first grade, Mrs. Lucille Carstensen for second grade, Mrs. Enid Zimmermann for third grade, Robert Magle for fourth grade, Delbert Greenman for fifth grade and John Little for sixth grade. Harry Johnson is the janitor.

$325,000 Project The Winchester school is part of a $325,000 building program which included an addition to the central school of six elementary classrooms and a multi-purpose room. The district also is operating the Alleville, Butte des Morts and Pingry schools, largely for lower elementary grade pupils.

A portable stage may be added to the multi-purpose room at the Winchester school in a future year. The room will be used as a gymnasium and also for meetings and programs. The classroom colors are of varying pastel shades and match the asphalt tile in each room.

Entry to the school is off Highway 136 or Highway 110 and the building sets back a distance from the highways. Landscaping will be carried out in the spring and a parking area will be developed there also.

3 Bandits Slain After Raid on Cambodian Line

Saigon, Viet Nam — A group of bandits dressed in military uniforms slipped across the Cambodian frontier during the weekend, looted a plantation and escaped with $40,000 worth of Vietnamese currency. Vietnamese troops and police killed seven of the bandits. Three local policemen were wounded while beating the raiders back from the Minh Tann plantation.

Menasha Man Is Disorderly

As American as pumpkin pie is the phrase, "Doctor knows best." We all remember this truism from childhood.

Yet, in this enlightened day, some people, relatively few in number, attempt to diagnose and treat their own illnesses — a dangerous practice to say the least.

Terrors Deal 'Point' First Loss, Prepare For Manty Invasion

3 Straight Goals by King Break Game Open in Fourth Quarter

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Having become the first Wisconsin prep basketball team to bag a Panther (genus Stevens Point) this season, the Appleton Terrors are now preparing to train their guns on an even more important target.

Friday night the Terrors will endeavor to sink the Fox River Valley conference's Ships in their heavily guarded home port of Manitowish.

The prize for this piece of singular marksmanship against the still-unvanquished Ships would be a near-summit position in the FRVC basketball hierarchy.

Brewer Leads LA Tourney By One Shot

Hits '4-Under' 67; Frank Stranahan In Second Place

Los Angeles —P— The men have been separated from the boys in the $35,000 Los Angeles Open Golf tournament.

And, of all things, Gay Brewer Jr., 25, a comparative youngster on the tourney trail, leads by a stroke in today's final scramble for the $7,000 first-place money.

The field was cut to 76 for fourth round play, with scores of 221 or lower qualifying.

Brewer clinched a brilliant third round by dropping a 15-foot putt on the eighteenth hole.

A loud roar exploded from the gallery when the ball plunked home, giving the husky young pro a 67, and 207 for 54 holes. His total was a stroke better than Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio who also turned in a 67.

Harrison Cards Par

E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, second-round leader by two strokes, turned in a par 71 over the 7,100-yard Rancho course. He had a 209 total.

Tied at 210 were Billy Casper, Apple Valley, Calif., with a 68, and 22-year-old Tommy Jacobs, Whittier, Calif., with a 70.

At 211 were Canada's Al Balding, with a 68, and Bo Winger, Odessa, Tex., 70.

Young Brewer, who hails from Lexington, Ky., but plays out of Cincinnati, began in fine fashion. His chip shots and putts, as he later admitted, were never better.

He dropped putts up to 18 feet as he picked up five birdies.

Brewer, who wasn't yet born when the veteran Harrison began his professional career, has won about every amateur laurel in Kentucky. In 1949 he was the national junior champion. He is relatively unknown in professional play.

Unbeaten UW Wrestling Captain Breaks Leg

Madison —P— Earle Edwards, captain of the University of Wisconsin wrestling team, is out for the rest of the season with a broken leg.

The UW athletic department said Saturday that Edwards fractured his leg at a high school gymnasium in his home town, Cedar Falls, Iowa, during the holiday recess.

Edwards, a senior letterman, was undefeated in four matches at 147 pounds this season.

AHS, in balancing its home record at 2-2 and enhancing its season's mark to 5-2, measured Point for the fourth consecutive year. Saturday's win was probably the most notable of the four since the current Panther team is conceded to be the school's strongest since its state championship unit of 1953-4.

The Terrors, seeing their first interscholastic action in two weeks, blew both hot and cold. But, in the payoff portion of the final quarter, they proved far too hot for the visitors to cope with.

Behind by as much as 12 points (27-15) the surging Panthers had ridden into their seventh (and, as it turned out, their final) lead, at 42-41, with 7:14 left to play.

AHS' Dick King then triggered a furious 24 minutes of fast-breaking, rebounding and zonepressing that brought unrestrained acclamation from more than 1,600 fans and left the Panther cause hopeless.

King, with only one previous basket in eight shots, followed up a mate's miss to put the Terrors permanently ahead (43-42) with 5:51 to play.

Bedard Rebounds

Having found the range, the ever-improving King did a thorough job of game-breaking. He drilled a 20-foot jump shot through the hoop and seconds later, came out of a scramble with a loose ball to plunk in the 7,100-yard Rancho course.

Hustling Bill Bedard got into the act with a timely rebound goal to give the Terrors an 8-point harvest in 1:16 of play. The bewildered Panthers recovered temporarily to pick up

Pro Stars Post 53-34 'Hula' Victory

Honolulu —P— The Hawaii All-Stars, fortified with pros, grabbed a 33-0 first quarter lead over their collegiate counterparts and won the Hula bowl game Sunday, 53-34.

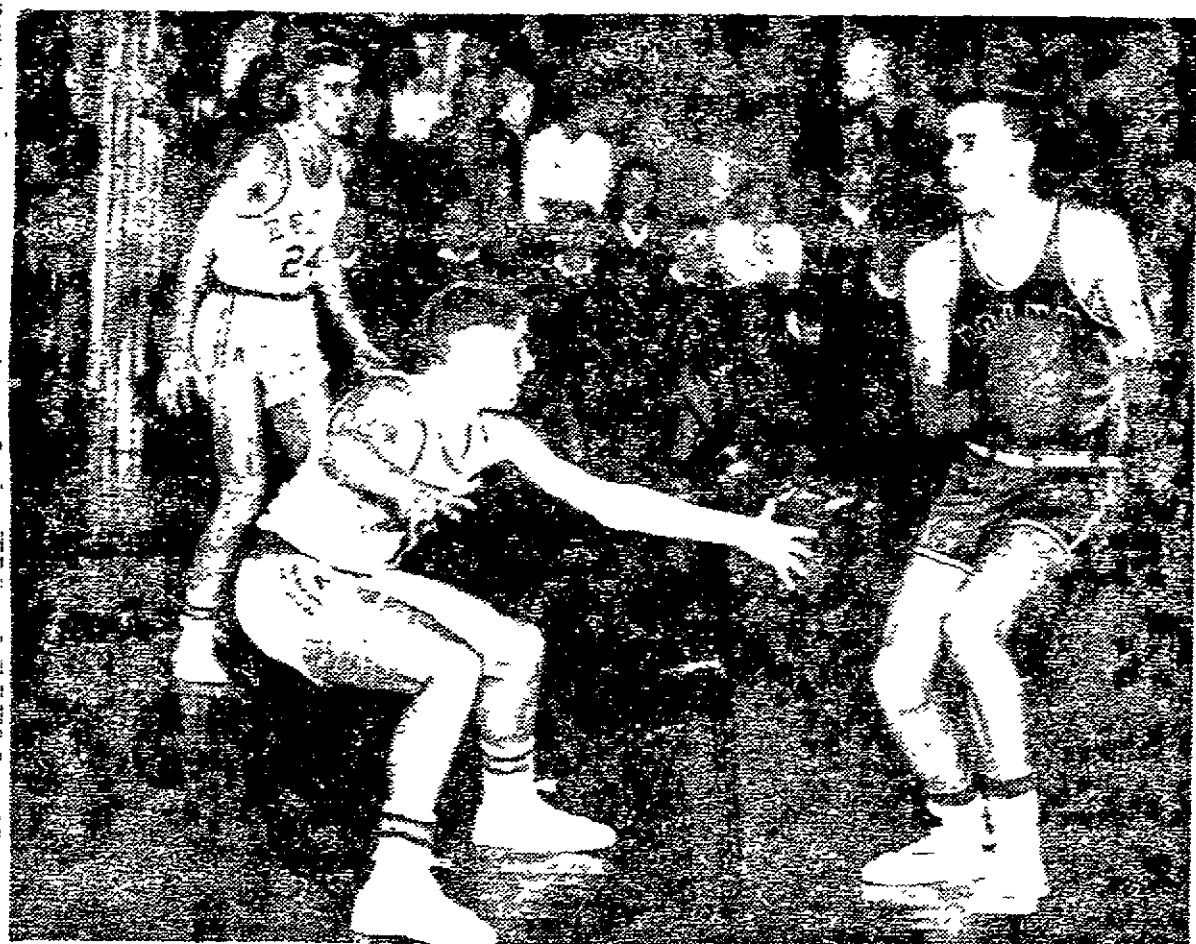

The 5-touchdown passing of quarterback Tobin Rote of the Detroit Lions and the lineplunging of Joe Perry of San Francisco proved too much for the college army.

The 49er back caught a TD pass from Rote and ground out three more 6-pointers on line plunges.

The collegians finally came out of their doldrums in the third period after trailing 40-7. Heisman trophy winner John Crow of Texas A&M scored three touchdowns for the collegians. Michigan State's Walt Kowalczyk tallied twice.

Braves Expect to Grant A Number of Pay Hikes

Milwaukee —P— Their sharp-featured John Quinn, general manager of the Milwaukee Braves doesn't resemble Santa Claus, but he'll probably discover in contract talks that his world champions expect him to act like one.

Braves contracts will be mailed at the end of the week.

"I just don't know what to say," Quinn commented when asked whether he expected difficulty in signing up his players. "You never can tell until the time comes."

Quinn noted the club had little trouble signing players after the Braves won the National League pennant in 1948, but he admitted the situation was different this time.

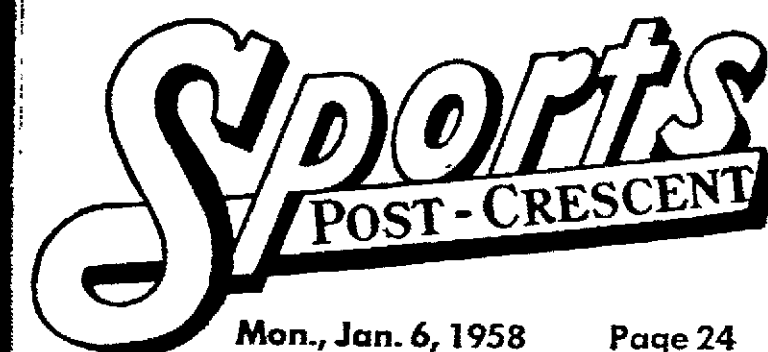

"We had a flock of veterans who were nearing the end of their careers in 1948," he said. "Now we're dealing with young players on their way up. They are the kind who figure to get pretty good increases."

In this category are Wes Covington and Frank Torre, second-year men who had good seasons, and Bob Hazie and Don McMahon.

Then, there are Hank Aaron, NL's Most Valuable Player; Series hero Lew Burdette; "Red" Schoendienst; Johnny Logan; Eddie Mathews; Bob Buhl; and Warren Spahn.

Aaron and Burdette received about $28,000 apiece last season. It's safe to assume that Aaron will ask for $40,000 and Burdette $35,000. Spahn, in the $50,000 bracket was the highest paid Brave last year. Schoendienst made around $40,000. Both, no doubt, will want more.

'Liz' Blackburn's Fate May be Decided Today By Packer Directors

Club Sources Deny Knowledge of Move To Oust Coach

Green Bay —P— The Green Bay Packers' executive committee and board of directors were scheduled to meet today amid rumors the football club may drop Lisle "Liz" Blackburn as head coach.

The executive committee meeting was set for noon, and the full board of directors will meet tonight.

Club sources Sunday night denied any knowledge of a move to oust Blackburn, who still has one year left on his contract.

They said the only big item on the agenda was a discussion about changing the Packers' usual home schedule of three games in Green Bay and three in Milwaukee. However, they said this wasn't expected to come to a head until the club's annual stockholders' meeting in March.

A Milwaukee newspaper reported Sunday night that a contract committee would tell the executive committee today about its recommendation for a successor to Blackburn.

The paper reported that a surprise choice may be Ray "Scooter" McLean, the National League club's backfield coach the past seven seasons.

Blackburn took over as coach in 1954 and has one more year under contract. According to the paper, the club would have to pay his $25,000 salary for 1958 even if he should be replaced.

Blackburn's 1954 team won four games and lost eight. The next year the Packers won six and lost six. They had a 4-8 record in 1956.

The 1957 campaign was Blackburn's worst. The club finished with a 3-9 won-lost record and wound up in the Western division cellar. A string of injuries to key players plagued the club all season.

Crawford, Vejar To Fight Tonight At St. Nicholas

By the Associated Press

Mickey Crawford, a fast-improving newcomer from Saginaw, Mich., and Chico Vejar, 26-year-old veteran of 89 pro fights, top the show tonight at St. Nicholas arena in New York.

Although Vejar has been beaten by "Tiger" Jones, Joey Giambra, Joey Giardello and Gene Fullmer in his campaign against "name" middleweights, he figures to be a tough test for Crawford.

Vejar has been weighing 159 or close to it in most of his recent starts. He was 157 when he beat Pat Lowry in December. Crawford, 23, lost to Ralph Dupas at New Orleans, Nov. 25, his only defeat in 11 bouts in 1957.

Ron Dibelius and Jack Glasier shared scoring honors for the winners with 13 points apiece. The Ramblers' Walt Sheedy was high with 18.

A crowd of only 2,000 turned up at the arena. Marquette's record now is four victories and six defeats. Loyola has a 5-4 record.

Drops Big 10 Opener to Illini, 64-59

Ann Arbor, Mich. —P— Wisconsin, a 64-59 loser to Illinois in its Big Ten opener, meets its second conference opponent tonight when it plays Michigan, here.

Coach "Bud" Foster of Wisconsin, who believed his team could beat Illinois, declared Sunday that he is sure his Badgers can beat the Wolverines.

Foster said, "The boys just did not play as we planned against Illinois. The (Illinois) press bothered us more than it should have and we gave away some cheap baskets at the start."

UW Begins Pressing

Wisconsin, playing at home Saturday night, snatched an early lead, but the Illini counter-attacked with a full court press and sailed to a 19-9 lead with just nine minutes gone.

The Badgers began pressing too, and went ahead, 23-27, on a layup shot by Walt Holt with two minutes left in the half. Illinois' Don Ohl spoiled that, netting a jump shot and two free throws as his team took a 31-29 halftime lead.

The Badgers returned to the floor and tied the score, 31-31, before the Illini took the lead again for keeps.

Ohl scored 21 points and took the scoring honors. Holt led Wisconsin with 16 points.

The loss was the third in a row for the Badgers, who now have a 5-4 season record. The victory was Illinois' seventh in eight games this season.

Michigan opened its Big Ten season Saturday night by defeating Iowa, 73-65. The Wolverines have a 6-3 season slate.

Illinois Welcomes Iowa Five Tonight

Hoosiers Seek Second Win at Purdue; Buckeyes Upset MSU

BY JOE MOOSHIL
Illinois and Michigan, a pair of dark horses who fashioned foreign court victories in Big Ten basketball openers Saturday night, return home tonight to resume conference activity. Illinois, having bumped Wisconsin, 64-59, takes on Iowa, victimized by Michigan, 73-65. Michigan takes on Wisconsin. Both Illinois and Michigan should win tonight but the Illinois might have trouble since it will be minus two regulars. Guard Roger Taylor suffered a shoulder separation against the Badgers and Capt. John Paul, who didn't suit up for Wisconsin, might miss several more games because of a bad back.

Joe Trimble May be Given Richards' Job

Charley Trippi Resigns as Cards' Assistant Coach

Chicago — The Chicago Cardinals, tops in the National Football league for coaching changes, are now seeking their nineteenth head football coach. Ray Richards, who held the post for three successive seasons, resigned Saturday night for "the best interests of everyone concerned."

The expected action by the 50-year-old coach followed a disappointing 3-9 season climaxed by a 27-2 defeat at the hands of Pittsburgh.

Had 4-7-1 Mark
The Cardinals had a 4-7-1 record in 1955 when Richards took over from Joe Stydahar and then won 7 of 12 games in 1956 and were tabbed likely title contenders for 1957 campaign. However, the team fell apart after an opening 20-10 triumph over San Francisco.

Shortly after Richards' resignation, Charley Trippi also called it quits as an assistant coach. Trippi, former Georgia and Cardinal star, has been rumored a possible successor if Richards decided to resign.

Walter Wolfner, managing director of the Cardinals who was in Miami Beach, Fla., said he regretted Richards' decision.

Came As Surprise
Wolfner said Richards' resignation came as a surprise and that he would return to Chicago later this week when a new coach is expected to be named.

The top candidate for the job appears to be Jim Trimble, former Philadelphia Eagle coach who met with Wolfner last Dec. 8.

Richards played college football at Nebraska and broke into the NFL in 1930. He played with Philadelphia, the Chicago Bears and Detroit before going West as an assistant at UCLA and head coach at Pepperdine in 1949 and 1950. Before taking over the Cardinals he was an assistant coach with the Baltimore Colts and Los Angeles Rams.

Boxer Fined for Failure To Make Weight Limit
Tokyo — Thailand boxer Omsap Laemphapha today was fined $250 by the Japanese Boxing commissioner for his failure to make the lightweight limit in a title fight Sunday.

The fight was rescheduled a non-title bout between Orient champion Hiroshi Okawa, and Omsap, who was knocked out in the ninth round. Okawa weighed 133 pounds and Omsap 140. Lightweight limit is 135.

Browns 2nd in Poll Notre Dame '11' Top Comeback Team of '57

By The Associated Press
Notre Dame, a team that won 9-2-1 record, only two of 10 games in 1956 but rebounded to halt mighty Oklahoma's 47-game winning streak and post a 7-3 record for 1957, was voted the comeback team of the year today.

The annual year-end poll of the Associated Press gave the Irish an overwhelming total of 105 first place ballots as Notre beat out the Cleveland Browns of the National Football league.

Shantz in Third
In the nationwide balloting, 211 sportswriters and sports-casters cast ballots, and the 105 sharing in the points were the firsts for Notre Dame helped St. Louis Cardinals, 66; Sugar roll up a total of 123 points. A Ray Robinson, 40; U. of Texas first place vote counted three football team and Milwaukee points, with two for second, and Braves, each 31; Hank Sauer, one for third, Cleveland had 23; 26; Roy Sievers, 18; San Francisco 49ers, 12; Notre Dame Coach Terry Brennan, Stan Musial, Don Hoak, Baltimore one for third, Eastern Colts, and Auburn football division titles and three world team, each 11 and the Ohio championships, won their con-

Severson Wins Ski Title at Delafield

By The Associated Press
Delafield — Dale Severson, Eau Claire ski star, soared to the senior championship Sunday in the second annual jump tournament held by Milwaukee's Thunderbird Ski club.

The 22-year-old jumper leaped 104 and 100 feet, scoring 142.4 points in the senior class, which formerly was called Class A.

Runnerup to Severson was Dave Stork of Westby, who scored 140.7 on leaps of 102 and 100 feet.

The champion of the veterans' class was Sverre Fredheim of Minneapolis, who also was pronounced the most graceful jumper in the meet. Fredheim leaped 100 and 101 feet and scored 145.9 points, including 68.5 points on form.

The Class B title was won by Milwaukee's Walter Keller, who scored 128.2 on jumps of 86 and 87 feet.

Lyle Swenson of Westby took the junior title with 144.4 points. Swenson jumped 104 and 94 feet. Larry Bergh of Eau Claire placed second among the juniors, scoring 135.4 on jumps of 95 and 92 feet.

Two veterans and perhaps other players today faced possible punishment by National Basketball association for Sunday's flareup at St. Louis.

Joe Holup of Detroit and Charley Share of St. Louis were tossed out of Sunday afternoon's game, won by the Hawks, 95-93, by referee Mendy Rudolph after a fight that also involved other players on both teams.

Rudolph said he ejected Holup and Share because they came off the bench and started slugging and punching.

Get into Scramble
The Hawks were leading, 66-43, in the third period when the fireworks started as Detroit's George Yardley and St. Louis' Jack McMahon got into a scramble. Then both benches were emptied and punches were thrown all over the court. Police were called in to restore order.

Bob Pettit of St. Louis, playing with a heavy cast protecting a fractured bone in one hand, paced the scorers with 26 points. Yardley, the league's leading scorer, was held to 11.

The victory permitted the Hawks to retain their nine-game lead in the Western division over the Cincinnati Royals, who edged the New York Knicks, 101-100.

The Syracuse Nats chalked up their second straight over the weekend. They beat Boston, 115-106, Saturday and Philadelphia Sunday, 111-96. The Warriors also lost Saturday, dropping a 81-78 decision to Detroit.

Individually Dolph Schayes of Syracuse, who had run his free throw string to 50 straight, missed on his first attempt against Boston Saturday and fell short of matching Bill Sharman's league record of 55.

Unusual State of Affairs Only 2 Major College Fives Stay Unbeaten

By The Associated Press
With most conference races barely under way, only two ranking powers in college basketball remained undefeated today — an unusual, if not unprecedented, state of affairs for so early in the year.

West Virginia and Mississippi State both have 10-0 records. State gets its chance to extend its streak tonight against Alabama in a Southeastern conference game.

State's biggest threat is Jack Kubiszyn, third in the league scoring race. He's only 5-10 but has been hitting at a 22.8-point-per-game pace.

No Guess Hazardous
If State and West Virginia are looking around for worries, they only need consider some of the following:

1. No one will hazard a guess at what will happen in the Big Eight, which begins operations Tuesday night. Kansas, the defending champion (and NCAA runner-up last season), was beaten by Oklahoma State with Wilt "The Stilt" Chamberlain sidelined. Tomorrow's game pitting a 81-78 decision to Detroit.

2. Maryland, big wheel in the Atlantic Coast conference since North Carolina was beaten, has lost two games in the past week. Clemson dumped them, 73-66, Saturday night. The Terps play North Carolina Saturday.
3. The Southwest conference is in a tizzy. Texas Tech, the brand new league member, whipped pre-season favorite Rice Saturday. Tonight Tech gets a shot at the current choice, Texas Christian.
4. Michigan State, one of the monsters of the Big Ten which ran up seven victories in a row at the start of the season, was beaten, 70-56, by Ohio State, a team that was clubbed by seven straight foes.

NAVY'S AMAZING NEW ARCTIC FABRIC NOW IN ALLEN-A INSULAIRE* UNDERWEAR

(THERMAL UNDERWEAR)

*TRADEMARKS

PERFECT COMFORT FOR EVERYONE WHO WORKS OR PLAYS IN CHILLING TEMPERATURES

The Navy needed a warmer fabric—warm enough for far-below-zero weather, yet unusually absorbent so it could be worn in doors or in mild weather without sweating. And 100% laundry-fool-proof.

Here's the fabric they developed—in well-made shirts and drawers especially designed for active men and women. Now you can shed extra layers of bulky, heavy outer clothing—dress lighter, have more freedom.

This new fabric is made of downy-soft cotton (doesn't itch), knitted in unique 3-dimensional pattern. Traps body-heat in thousands of tiny "pockets" for perfect insulation.

Rigorously tested for warmth in arctic conditions. Can be machine-washed, tumble-dried. These garments won't shrink out of size or stretch out of shape.

Wildlife Still Costs Money

Horicon Improvements Must Await Work at Needier Wetland Areas

BY DION HENDERSON
Of The Associated Press

The best things in life may be free, but wildlife still costs money.

This fine old maxim was just thought up to describe the dilemma at the Horicon National Wildlife Refuge. Needless to say, the dilemma is older than the maxim, and not only at the great Wisconsin waterfowl factory.

For the truth of the matter is, that Horicon was no great shakes as a duck producer this year. Rep. Henry Reuss of Wisconsin was moved to some alarm when this was discovered, and inquired of the Interior Department whether this didn't mean that extensive new water control structures were among things needed to boost the marsh's bird production again.

Answer is "Yes". From Interior's wildlife experts the answer has come. In a word, yes. But with an expenditure of something around $100,000 required for six sub-impoundments needed to manipulate the water level at Horicon, many a pinfeather may go unhatched before the new dikes are completed.

Under the doctrine of first things first, Horicon's improvements would do well to place second, or even third. After all, the 20,600 acre refuge is basically secure, which is considerably more than can be said of other thousands of wetland acres rapidly being diverted to other uses elsewhere faster than limited wildlife funds can be stretched to acquire them.

And Horicon, like a number of other similar refuges scattered around the country, is not in anything like a critical position.

Production Doubled
Richard E. Griffith, acting chief of the branch of wildlife refuges, says in a report to Rep. L. Leffler, assistant interior secretary for wildlife, that even with bad weather — for ducks — during the last nesting season, duck production still was more than double that reported for 1952.

That was the year Horicon's main dike was completed so that the water level could be held high enough to kill out tresh vegetation and create more favorable habitat for ducks.

With the one dike, Horicon was — and is — still at the

Appleton Scores First JV Win Over Stevens Point in 5 Years

A smashing second-half attack carried the Appleton High school junior varsity basketball team to a 53-32 victory over Stevens Point Saturday night. The triumph, first in five years for John Graff-coached Junior Terror quintets over Stevens Point, was the sixth in seven 1957-8 starts for the Appletonians.

During the raged first half, in which both teams showed the effects of the holiday layoff, the AHS jayvees gained an 18-15 lead.

In the third quarter, the Junior Terrors warmed up to their task to score 16 points, but the visitors stayed in contention with 12.

19-Point Barrage
Came the one-sided final period, and the Junior Terrors unleashed a 19-point barrage while holding the Junior Panthers to one field goal and three free throws.

John Nussbaum, mifty guard, led the Junior winners' output with 13 points. He was the lone consistent scorer in the first half, netting four of his team's eight baskets.

mercy of the weather. For a couple of years, the weather was right and things went quackingly. Then in 1956, rains piled water in faster than it could be handled and flooded out many acres of recently-established forage plantings.

Summer-Long Drouth
And in 1957, an early draw-down to correct the situation and reestablish the plants got out of hand because of a summer-long drouth that left big chunks of acreage bone dry and duckless.

Griffith acknowledges that the drawdown, and the drought, brought on considerable criticism of the management method. But, he says, "the action taken was based upon a long history of management experience on other national wildlife refuges which dictates that water levels in refuge impoundments be varied periodically to control plant succession and to maintain the most favorable balance for wildlife."

As a matter of harsh truth, there isn't any other way — without spending money, and money in substantial amounts at that.

To sum it up in another brand-new old saying: talk is cheap, but you can't control water levels with conversation. Not lately, anyway.

Stanford, Aggies' Jobs Get Rumor Treatment

Coaches Recommend Liberalization Of Substitutions, 4 Other Changes

Philadelphia — P — The rumor machines stirred up a lot of froth today as college football coaches and athletic directors, nearly 2,000 strong, jammed into Philadelphia for the main portions for their annual conventions.

Conversation was concerned mainly with what football coaches may land the choicest jobs available — those at Texas A&M and Stanford.

Half a dozen other head coaching positions are also open.

Myers Mentioned

Names heard most often are those of "Cactus" Jack Curtice, colorful Utah coach who recently led the West team to a surprise victory in the Shrine East-West game at San Francisco, and Jim Myers, young Iowa State coach.

Myers was reported to have made an undercover visit to A&M before coming here.

Curtice, according to other reports, could have his choice of either A&M or Stanford. He is said to have told friends he isn't interested in just a head coaching job. He also is athletic director at Utah and wants to be top man wherever he goes.

Texas A&M offers such a dual role. But Curtice isn't talking.

Erdelatz Version

Another version is that Navy's Eddie Erdelatz was willing to talk to Texas A&M people but negotiations for an interview got fouled up. Other names mentioned as possibilities include Minnesota's Murray Warmath, Andy Pilney of Tulane and former Harvard Coach Lloyd Jordan.

The football coaches got down to business Sunday when the Rules Committee of the American Football Coaches association drew up five recommendations to be presented to the national rules committee later this week. Most important was a liberalized substitution rule which would permit a player to return to the game once in each quarter whether or not he had started that period.

Abidjan, French West Africa — Jules Touan, Ivory Coast, outpointed Tanny Campo, Philippines, 10.

Toronto's Dick Duff (17) and Detroit's Forbes Kennedy (17) exchange blows in a fight after they crashed each other roughly into the side boards in the first period of their game in Detroit Sunday night. Other players move in to break up the fight. Both Duff and Kennedy drew major penalties for fighting. Detroit won, 3-2. (AP Wirephoto)

Lightning — a deluge of opposition goals — struck twice this weekend at the New York Ranger goal nets. And 27-year-old goal tender Marcel Paille isn't happy about what happened.

With the Rangers leading 4-1 in a nationally televised game Saturday against Boston, Marcel saw the puck fly past him six times in the last 7 1/2 minutes for a 7-4 Bruins victory.

Then, Sunday he checked the league — leading Montreal Canadiens for the first 11 minutes. But within the next eight minutes, the Canadiens whipped the puck into the net four times. Montreal won, 4-0.

Meanwhile, Boston lost a chance to close in on the second place Rangers when they bowed to the Chicago Black Hawks, 4-3. Sunday after the Hawks had downed Toronto, 4-2, Saturday. Toronto also lost Sunday night, 3-2, to Detroit's Red Wings. Detroit dropped a 2-1 decision to Montreal Saturday.

300 Cars Escape as Ice Breaks Up on Lake Winnebago; One Vehicle Sinks

Chilton — Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky directed "Operation Melting Ice" Sunday afternoon and evening for the second time in little more than a week as more than 300 cars were stranded on Lake Winnebago ice in a break-up.

The sheriff and his deputies removed some 80 ice fishermen from the loose ice Dec. 27 in rowboat relays. Sunday they guided cars over safe routes to shore from Fairy Springs south to Quinney.

At least two cars did not make it. The Raymond Duchow car went through the ice and this morning efforts were being made to retrieve a car hanging on the edge of the ice.

The marooned car is about 1 1/2 miles northwest of Fairy Springs. The rear wheels are submerged. The owner, who refused to give his name, placed planks at the front and

Mrs. Walter Rogers

Mrs. Walter Rogers Succumbs at 71

Mrs. Walter Rogers, 71, 911 E. North street, considered one of the state's leading ornithologists, died at 12:30 Saturday afternoon after a short illness. She was born Nov. 13, 1886, in Decatur, Ill., and lived in Appleton the last 40 years.

Mrs. Rogers, active in the national and Appleton Audubon societies, took an active interest in nature and organized junior Audubon groups. She also served as a nature consultant for Boy and Girl Scout troops and was a member of the Presbyterian church, Campus club and Town and Gown club. Mrs. Rogers was a charter member of the Wisconsin Society of Ornithology.

Funeral services will be at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Wichmann Funeral home, with burial in Riverside cemetery. The Rev. Robert Ranck, pastor of First Presbyterian church, Neenah, will officiate. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 o'clock tonight.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Robert Chapelle, Appleton; Mrs. Kenneth Wruck, Neenah; Mrs. Albert Haak, Williamsburg, Va.; and Mrs. Donald Brockman, Vourbonais, Ill.; two sons, Kay, Brussels, Belgium, and Luther, Appleton; and 10 grandchildren.

Language Professor To Speak at College

Prof. Edmund Zawachi of the Slavic language department at the University of Wisconsin will lecture at 11 o'clock in the morning in Memorial chapel on Dostievsky's "Crime and Punishment." The book is being read by students in the freshman studies course, and it is primarily the freshmen for whom the talk is prepared, although it is open to the public.

Prof. Zawachi delivered a similar lecture in 1950, when the same book was under discussion.

rear of the car to keep it afloat if the ice breaks again. Today it is surrounded by new ice.

The Duchows went ice fishing about 11 o'clock Sunday morning. They were going home about 4 o'clock and were about a mile from shore when the car started to sink.

They leaped from the car and stood helplessly watching as it slowly nosed into the fast opening water. The front of the car, she said, disappeared in about 10 minutes, but the rear stayed above water for some time longer.

Help Too Late

The car could have been retrieved if help had arrived while the rear floated, but no help came until shortly after the car disappeared.

The Duchows were picked up by other fishermen and they were returned to shore by a safe route.

All of their fishing tackle was lost with the car. Mrs. Duchow said they are discussing the possibility of an attempt to retrieve the sunken vehicle.

Warned by Pilot

Sheriff Kosmosky said the break-up started in earnest about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. He alerted Will Haase, Jr., a pilot from Fond du Lac, to fly over the lake to warn the fishermen of the break-up.

Haase performed the same service Dec. 27.

Kosmosky said his men guided the cars off the ice at Fairy Springs, Stockbridge and Quinney.

Nearly seven years ago there were almost 1,000 fishermen marooned on the ice floes in the lake and many of their cars sank to the bottom.

Darboy Youth Thrown From Car Into Fence

Roger Sprangers, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sprangers, route 4, Appleton, is in St. Elizabeth hospital today receiving treatment for injuries he received in a car accident on Highway 114 2 1/2 miles east of Waverly beach, about 4 o'clock this morning.

The Darboy youth was alone in the car when it went out of control on some ice and struck a pole. Sprangers was thrown from the car into a fence.

He suffered facial cuts and injuries to his jaw and left leg. He was taken to the hospital by Larry's ambulance.

Birth Record

St. Elizabeth hospital today reported the following births:

Sons to:

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cordingly, 7 West court.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Schroeder, 1331 W. Brewster street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Schroeder, route 1, Appleton.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hanaway, 610 1/2 W. Atlantic street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Van Gompel, 706 1/2 Park avenue, Little Chute.

Theda Clark hospital, Neenah, today reported the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. George Schneider, 115 Gardner row.

A son was born Jan. 4 to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hopfensperger, the former Carol Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Howe, 1829 N. Ullman avenue. The father is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hopfensperger, Sr., 1830 N. Ullman avenue.

One of the Two Cars That Failed to escape from the Lake Winnebago ice Sunday during a late afternoon break-up sits partly submerged about 1 1/2 miles northwest of Fairy Springs, with planks in place to prevent it from sinking. Calumet county Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky and his deputies guided more than 300 cars off the ice Sunday afternoon and evening. A car owned by the Raymond Duchows, Jansch road, Kaukauna, sank in the break-up. The marooned car's owner refused to give his name. (Post-Crescent Photo)

1956 FORD 1956 Ford is less than two years old and has been driven only 17,000 miles. You'll like the tu-tone green finish and the excellent condition of the upholstery and interior. It has the large heater and direction signals and can be yours for just $285.
1955 CHEVROLET If you would like economy here's a 1955 Chevrolet 2-door Sedan with a 6 cylinder engine and the air-flow heater. This is a local, one owner car you would be proud to own. It's dark gray and has only been driven 23,000 miles. You can own this like-new 1955 Chevrolet for just $1995. With a down payment of only $295 your payments would only be $41.52 per month including all the benefits of our protected payment plan.
1955 ENGLISH FORD This 1955 Ford Perfect (English) is a second most economical car on our lot. We've just installed a brand new engine, so you'll be set for many thousands of miles of driving pleasure. It has a radio, heater and signals and would make an excellent first car for a young man. It's small size and ease of handling but more than that you'll enjoy its economy. We've specially priced this car for you at just $795. With a down payment of just $195 you can own this excellent car for $40.00 per month and under our Protected Payment Plan.

Away you'll go . . . Keotane-Quick . . .
morning after morning, all winter long!

"I'll get a hot spark this morning . . . I'll start fast this morning . . . I'll save my battery this morning."

Get Keotane-Clean[®] "Hot Spark" Starts

(Like having someone warm up your engine ahead of time)

Only Skelly Supreme Gasoline has Keotane . . . and only Keotane "unglues" carbon and lead from spark plugs as you drive, by dissolving the glue-like gum that collects and binds these deposits. Result: You get a quick, clean, "hot spark" start.

ON a cold cold morning you want a fast fast start. But your gasoline is cold . . . the air is cold . . . your engine is cold. And to get a fast start in a cold engine on a cold morning, you need a hot spark. But to get a hot spark, you need clean spark plugs. To be sure of always having clean spark plugs you need Keotane.

It's that simple. Because Keotane dissolves gum, it "unglues" carbon and lead from spark plugs. A 10,000-mile spark plug that's Keotane-Clean shoots a hotter spark than a 3,000-mile plug that's fouled with carbon and lead.

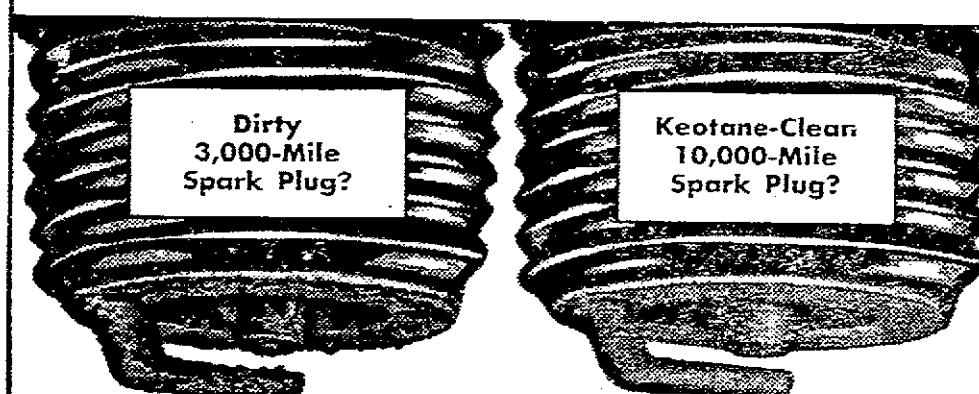

Because Skelly Supreme Gasoline gets spark plugs Keotane-Clean as you drive, users call Skelly Supreme the "hot spark" gasoline. With Skelly Supreme in their tanks, every time they go to start their cars, they can say, "I'll get a hot spark this morning . . . I'll start fast this morning . . . I'll save my battery this morning."

Because Keotane also gets your carburetor, combustion chambers, valves and other vital engine parts Keotane-Clean, tests show that Keotane gives an average of 12.7% more miles per gallon, 14.6% more horsepower output, and the performance effect of 3.1 extra octane points. All this adds up to 6.1¢ extra value per gallon — at no extra cost.

Start tomorrow morning with Skelly Supreme with Keotane — the only "hot spark" gasoline.

Which Will Start Faster?

In only 3,000 miles, even new spark plugs can build up heavy deposits of gum-stuck carbon and lead. This layer of unwanted "insulation" makes starting slow and agonizing—and wears down your battery.

The strong, "hot" spark you get from a Keotane-Clean plug quickly ignites even a cold mixture in a cold engine on a cold morning. You get Keotane-Clean "hot spark" starts—and save your battery!

Only Skelly Supreme Gasoline Gives You 6.1¢ Extra Value Per Gallon with

Keotane

(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

6.1¢ makes other premium gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any regular gasoline expensive to use;
6.1¢ makes any "cut rate" gasoline expensive to use.
